ORDER FOR THE BATTLE ISSUED

President Shaffer's Mandate to the Army of the Amalgamated Association Said to Have Gone Forth---Notice to Combine.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—The Leader says President Shaffer announced this afternoon that the general order calling out all the Amalgamated men in all of the steel combine mills to strike would go out this afternoon. He declined to give out a copy of the order in advance of its receipt by the lodges. He said it would go to them first before it would be made public.

A New Castle, Pa., special says:

"The employes of the National Steel company in this city have been ordered out by President Shaffer. The mill will close down at midnight tonight. Vice President Chappelle will address a meeting of the men tomorrow morning."

NOTICE TO THE COMBINE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—President Shaffer called a meeting of the national officers for a secret session at 2 o'clock this afternoon to submit the proclamation and notice to the manufacturers of the intended general strike.

The circular prepared by President Shaffer notified the manufacturers that he proposed to order out the men in the plants of the United States Steel corporation now operating with men belonging to the Amalgamated association if they do not make overtures for peace.

The circular was approved by the board and will be printed and sent out this evening.

STRIKE ORDER NOT ISSUED.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—The general strike order was not issued by President Shaffer this morning and it may be delayed beyond the time limit made by him yesterday. He says there are sufficient reasons for the delay, but the only apparent cause is said to be the hope entertained that the officers of the big steel corporation may soon realize the serious results that will follow a general closing of the union plants and make overtures for peace.

The Amalgamated association, it is explained, does not want to take hasty action and proposes to rest quietly for awhile. From the meager reports from the officials of the steel combines, they are not worrying over the delay, and seem to be confident as ever that they will win.

ENCOURAGED BY DELAY.

They are encouraged over the delay in issuing the strike order and believe it is due to the fact that the officers of the workers' organization are not certain of their ability to bring out the union men desired. One thing appears certain and that is that President Shaffer will not call out the men before the latter part of the week. President Shaffer was at his office at 9 o'clock this morning and at once went to work. It is said that he is preparing the notices to the different companies, which will state that he intends to call the men out.

These notices will probably be got out today. No attempt has been made to start any of the mills in this

LAST ACT IN LAND LOTTERY BEGINS

El Reno, O. T., Aug. 6.—In the opening of Indian lands on the Kiowa-Comanche reservations the last act began today when the winners in last week's lottery were permitted to file on their claims. Filing at the rate of 250 per day at El Reno and Fort Sill will continue daily until the entire 13,000 claims have been disposed of. It is estimated that two or three thousand claims drawn at the lottery never will be filed on. There undoubtedly will be a lively scramble for them by the thousands of persons who did not win in the lottery. An auction sale by the federal government of town lots at Anadarke, Hobart and Lawton began today. At each place thousands of persons have waited for days for the opportunity to purchase lots and begin business.

GETS A LONG SENTENCE.

New York, Aug. 6.—Samuel X. Shinn, who was recently convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Thomas F. Applegate, was sentenced at Trenton, N. J., today, to eighteen years at hard labor.

YACHTS IN COLLISION.

New York, Aug. 6.—J. Pierpont Morgan's steam yacht Corsair, Howard C. Smith's Saghaya and Frank Tilford's Norman, all anchored at the New York Yacht club rendezvous, off the foot of East Twenty-sixth street, were in collision today. The Saghaya was badly damaged. The Corsair hit her twice, tearing away her rigging and knocking over her foremast and smashing a lot of deck top hamper. Then she swung around and bumped the Norman, dragging away some guys. The Corsair and the Norman were not damaged much. A strong tide caused the Corsair to drag her anchors and to run into the other yachts.

DENOUNCE CARNEGIE.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 6.—The Central Labor union has adopted a resolution denouncing Andrew Carnegie as a "foe to labor" and protesting against the school board of Easton accepting $50,000 from Mr. Carnegie for a library.

THIEVES MAKE PRINCELY HAUL

Smelting Works at Vallejo, Cal., Robbed of Gold Bullion Worth $340,000---Tunneled from the Seashore to Treasure Room.

Vallejo, Cal., Aug. 6.—Gold bricks valued at $340,000 were stolen during the night from the Selby smelting works. The robbers evidently had been working on the job for two or three months. Thy had dug a tunnel from outside the house, beginning with a shaft about three feet deep. Thence they worked underneath the vault, and striking upwards, bored a hole in the strong-room floor. The hole was shaped like the manhole of a boiler. Parts of the hole was bored two months ago, it is thought, and the last one was completed during the night. Through that hole they took the gold bricks and carried them to a bank near the mouth of the tunnel east of the works, where they were evidently placed in a boat. In their hurry the robbers left two of the bricks on the bank. During the night one of the workmen reported to his fellows that he heard a noise in the strong room and declared it was a ghost. The others ridiculed him for his superstition, but no investigation was made to see what caused the noise.

The entrance to the tunnel was covered with a frame, over which the employes of the smelter passed repeatedly every day, but no one seemed to notice anything out of the way.

Sheriff Veale, of Contra Costa county; his deputies and Chief of Police Sanford, of Vallejo, have been notified and are now at the works. The police of San Francisco and all the bay cities are at work on the case, but so far there is not the slightest clew to the robbers.

The work was that of skilled men and their elaborate plans were carried out without a hitch. They got all the bullion in the vault, leaving behind only the two bricks which were dropped on the shore. Only one day's accumulation of refined gold was kept at the works. Yesterday's run was unusually heavy and the gold was to have been shipped back to San Francisco today.

The tunnel that the robbers excavated was about three feet in diameter and gave them plenty of room in which to work. It is supposed that the dirt from the tunnel was taken out at night and dropped in the bay. First reports stated that the tunnel was two or three hundred feet long, but according to late advices it is only about ten feet in length. The shaft was started close to the wall and was sunk below the foundation. Thence it was only a short distance under the floor of the vault. It is thought the men who committed the robbery took their plunder away in a launch and made off directly for San Francisco. There are plenty of places, however, to which they may have gone—either up the Sacramento river or to the shore of any of the numerous bays.

Following is a list of the property stolen:

Four gold bricks, all numbered and containing as follows: No. 1, 236—1,190 ounces and a fraction; No. 1, 237—3,300 ounces; No. 1, 238—1,233 ounes and a fraction; No. 1, 239—1,037 ounces and a fraction; also 10,000 ounces of gold in various shapes and a little silver. The gold in the bricks is worth $20 an ounce.

The Selby smelter is the largest on the Pacific coast. Ores are sent there from all parts of the western slope for reduction. The works are located near the bay shore, about thirty miles from San Francisco, and through the clever device of tunneling through the loose sand the robbers secured a princely sum, the loss of which was not discovered until after the works resumed operations today.

The robbers took the usual precaution of strewing their tracks with red pepper, presumably to prevent bloodhounds from taking up the trail.

Each bar of bullion was numbered and a description is now in the hands of the detectives. President Ralston stated that the robbers cannot dispose of the plunder without having it remelted and mixed with other metals. He is of the opinion that they will bury the gold or sink it in the bay, awaiting a convenient time for its removal, as there are few smelters on this coast where the gold can be remelted.

President Ralston stated that he had absolutely no clue to the identity of the robbers. At the Selby works the gold is kept in a steel lined strong room. The robbers tunneled until they got directly under the room and then cut through the floor. The tunnel was a skillfully constructed work, which it must have taken may days to complete.

Once in the strong room the thieves had only to help themselves to all in sight. Bullion is sent each day from the Selby San Francisco office to the smelter by a special boat. The boat arrived at the works as usual today with the consignment of bullion and the strong room was opened so that it could be stored. Then it was that the smelter officials discovered their loss.

HIS MIND IN GOOD ORDER.

Indianapolis, Aug. 6.—John Ross, whose case started all the trouble which resulted in the collapse of the so-called insanity commission trust, was before the city court yesterday for assaulting a fellow-workman at the packing plant, but it developed that the victim, while in a drunken condition, had annoyed Ross and other boarders, and finally grew profane while at the dinner table. Ross called him down, and Sullivan resented it by attacking him, whereupon he was knocked down several times. Ross' arrest aroused great interest, as the friends of the insanity trust thought something might come out of it showing Ross was really mentally affected, but the disclosures showed that he acted discreetly and bravely.

TWO BOYS ROB MAIL.

Greencastle, Ind., Aug. 6.—Charges were filed yesterday before United States Commissioner Hoggin against George Moore and Ulysses Snyder for stealing a mail sack from the Monon depot at this place July 12. The pouch contained valuable mail, and in Moore's coat, which he had hidden, it is said, was found $2,000 worth of checks and money orders. The prisoners are mere boys. They had been hiding in a cave, and had drawn revolvers on farmers who remonstrated with them for what they did. Moore attempted to shoot the police who arrested him.

MARRIED THIS AFTERNOON.

Miss Nettie Wefel, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wefel, of 21 East Washington street, was united in marriage this afternoon at 2 o'clock to Henry W. Bradtmiller, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Jacob Miller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The attendants were Miss Ella Wefel and Herman Bradtmiller. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony, the guests being immediate relatives of the young people. Later Mr. and Mrs. Bradtmiller left for Anderson, where they will make their home.

BIG FIRE AT MARION.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 6.—Fire today destroyed the entire plant of the Indiana Pulp and Paper company, with the exception of the finishing department. Loss, $175,000; insurance, $60,000.

C. A. Probst, window trimmer at the People's store, is at Indianapolis attending the convention of the National Window Trimmers' association, of which he is a member.

WHILE SHE SLEPT

THE ANGEL OF DEATH CAME TO EMPRESS FREDERICK.

HER PASSING WAS PAINLESS

OLD SERVANTS TAKE LAST LOOK AT REMAINS.

SIX WEEKS OF MOURNING

THE PRESIDENT SENDS CONDOLENCES TO KAISER.

Cronberg, Aug. 6.—The body of the dowager empress still lies in the bedchamber overlooking the valley of the Maine. She died in a soft sleep, painlessly, and her features bear the most serene and peaceful expression.

The gardeners and other outdoor dependents were admitted this morning to take a last look at the remains.

Emperor William will arrive here at noon, when orders will be issued for the various funeral arrangements, concerning which nothing definite is yet known.

No strangers have yet been admitted to the castle. Wreaths continue arriving. Among the earliest was one brought by a deputation from the village of Cronberg, headed by the burgomaster. Another wreath was brought by the pastor of the village.

MOURN FOR DEAD EMPRESS.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—A special edition of the Reichzanzeiger published this morning contains an imperial cabinet order giving notice of the death of Empress Frederick and ordering six weeks national mourning, beginning today. The order also directs that all public amusements, including concerts and theatrical performances, be suspended until after the funeral.

According to dispatches from Cronberg the death agony of the dowager empress was brief, lasting hardly a quarter of an hour. When Professor Renvers informed Emperor William that his mother's heart had ceased to beat the chaplain made a brief prayer and his majesty placed white lillies in his mother's hands.

Telegrams are pouring in from all quarters. The heads of all foreign states and the sovereigns of the German states have sent messages of condolence couched in the warmest terms.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

The papers comment on the political side of the dowager empress' character with reserve. The Post considers it easily comprehensible that a woman of her abilities should seek to influence the political views of her husband; but, the paper refrains from criticism since she avoided all political activity after Emperor Frederick's death.

The Cruzietung wholly ignores her politics. The Neuste Nachrichten says she brought from England political views which were suitable in a highly developed, solidly foundationed country like England, but which were out of place in a country like Prussia, struggling for existance.

The Deutsche Tages Zietung says: "It would be unseemly and repugnant to our sentiments to recall the struggles in which she was drawn."

The liberal papers describe the hopes Germany indulged in through her indoctrinating Emperor Frederick with English constitutional views. Many papers refer to her relations with the late Prince Bismarck and his opposition to her "Englanderie."

The flag on the United States embassy was half-masted today.

LIFE OF LATE EMPRESS.

Victoria Adelaide May Louise, eldest daughter of Queen Victoria, was born at Buckingham palace in 1840. For a year she was heiress to the crown of England, and then Alfred Edward was born. The wit of the royal child amazed and rather frightened the kindly mother queen. The prince consort delighted in it, for he believed that when it was matured and softened it would be a powerful factor in her career. She minded not what she said or to whom she said it. She had her first love affair when she was thirteen years old, and it was with the boy whom she married five years later—the crown prince of Prussia. This royal match was quite as much a love affair as that of the queen of England and the prince consort. When she was married her wonderful mind was already making itself felt throughout the country. She knew statesmanship and political economy like a man. She talked ably and wisely with the great men attached to the court of St. James. She was an artist of ability. She was outspoken, independent, fearless in the Anglo-Saxon way. She was her father's closest companion and he superintended all her studies and reading and was her companion from the time she could talk. The crown prince also found that she had a head which thought out for itself and was not governed by the rules that are laid down for court life. She was so strong, moreover, that she was not always tactful, and this antagonized the members of the court at Berlin. It did not make matters any easier at court when the crown prince began to defer to his wife's judgment over and above everybody. "I will ask my wife" was his common saying. After the present emperor married and was completely in control of the government, the Empress Frederick turned the great abilities to the advancement of the German women. The splendid nursing by women on the field in 1866 and 1870 was accomplished by her. She established the splendid modern hospital at Hamburg during the Franco-Prussian war. The greatest result of her intellectual work is that wonderful Victoria house for the care of the sick.

She had four sons and four daughters—Wilhelm, born in 1859; Charlotte, born in 1860; Henry, born in 1862; Sigismund, born in 1864 and died in 1866; Victoria, born in 1866; Waldemar, born in 1868 and died in 1879; Sophia Dorothea, born in 1870; Margaret, born in 1872.

EDWARD GOES TO CRONBERG.

Cowes, Aug. 6.—The time of King Edward's departure for Germany is still undetermined. He goes to London this afternoon. The royal yacht Victoria and Albert awaits his arrival at Port Victoria to convey his majesty to Flushing. Although the king decided that the Cowes yachting program should proceed, the owners of the vessels entered for the king's cup, which was to have been raced for today, have resolved, out of respect for the dowager empress, not to start.

PRESIDENT'S CONDOLENCES.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President McKinley has sent the following message to Emperor William, of Germany, on the death of his mother, the Dowager Empress Frederick:

"State Department, Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—His Imperial and Royal Majesty Wilhelm II., German Emperor, Berlin: I learn with deep sorrow of the death of your majesty's beloved mother, the Dowager Empress and Queen Frederick. Her noble qualities have endeared her memories to the American people, in whose name and in my own I tender to your majesty heartfelt condolence.

(Signed.) "William McKinley."

GAME BIRDS ARE RELEASED

ENGLISH PHEASANTS FOR ALLEN COUNTY.

C. F. Knothe Places Several Pairs Near Everett Lake and Hopes to See Them Multiply.

C. F. Knothe, well known as a bird fancier, has been engaged for some time in raising English pheasants, a beautiful game bird, which he hopes to introduce into Allen county. Two years ago a pair of the birds were sent to Mr. Knothe by the game warden, and he has carefully protected them until their numbers have been considerably multiplied.

Now Mr. Knothe proposes to install the pheasants as a game bird in this section, and in order to make the test he has just released several pairs of the pheasants near Everett Lake, that region being the only section he could find where all the farmers have prohibited hunting. If the birds are undisturbed for a few years they will multiply so rapidly as to become permanent among the local game birds. To aid in their culture the game law is very strict, there being a penalty of $50 for each bird killed until the fall of 1905.

CIVIL RULE FOR MANILA.

Manila, Aug. 6.—The military government of Manila ceases tomorrow and municipal affairs will be taken over by three commissioners, similar to the government in the District of Columbia. The president is a Filipino. Colonel Herrera; the others are Messrs. Baldwin and Tutherly. The chief of police is George Curry, a former officer of the Eleventh cavalry. Mr. Housermann is the city attorney.

LEACH'S LIABILITIES GROWING

How Avilla's Banker Impressed People That He Had Plenty of Money and Would Do the Town Good, Which He Did.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Avilla, Ind., Aug. 6.—There is but little diminution of public temper over the collapse of the Bank of Avilla, and the failure of the institution continues to be pretty nearly the sole topic of conversation in the town. Creditors of the wrecked bank have placed the matter in the hands of attorneys, Marshall & McNagny, of Columbia City, appearing for the larger number of the losers; Colerick & Thomas and P. A. Randall, of Fort Wayne, for those who have petitioned to have the missing banker declared a bankrupt, while Leach's interests are being looked after by Attorney R. P. Barr, of Kendallville.

Until an expert accountant has made an examination of the books of the concern nobody is in a position to say how much will be realized by the luckless depositors, but nobody here believes the wrecked institution can pay more than a nominal per cent. The liabilities, at first announced to be about $17,000, appear to be increasing daily, and it seems now probable that they will be at least $27,000. The attorneys for the creditors are making an effort to secure an examination of the bank's books by an expert accountant in order that a more accurate knowledge of the situation may be obtained. Nobody can be found with confidence enough to believe there is any funds left in the bank's vaults.

HE WON CONFIDENCE.

The career of H. W. Leach in Avilla forms an interesting, albeit somewhat expensive subject of contemplation to the people of this town. He came to Avilla in the fall of 1899, presumably from Chicago, and spent several days in the place, looking over the business opening and talking to a number of the more prominent people. He was a young man, not yet thirty years of age, made a pleasing appearance and was of an engaging personality. Of medium height, faultlessly dressed and apparently well educated, he was soon accepted at par and welcomed as a notable addition to society and business circles of the town.

It must be said that Leach made no boastful announcement in words of the great things he proposed to do; it was his manner rather than any statement of his that convinced the people that he had unlimited wealth at his command, and the announcement that he had determined to establish a bank in the place was received with genuine pleasure. All sorts of stories of untold thousands possessed by the new citizen soon gained currency, though it is not known that the stories came from the lips of the banker. They traveled as stories will, and in public report the banker's wealth grew daily more amazing.

Some timorous citizens ventured a doubt as to there being sufficient field in the town for a bank, but Mr. Leach had no doubts upon the subject. He leased a business room on Main street and placed a force of workmen at remodeling it and trans-

ADMIRAL HOWISON ON SCHLEY COURT

Washington, Aug. 6.—Rear Admiral Henry L. Howison has been selected to fill the vacancy on the Schley court of inquiry caused by the inability of Rear Admiral Kimberly to serve. Admiral Howison's name is one of the several officers whom Admiral Schley notified the department was satisfactory to him. The appointment is also satisfactory to Captain Parker, Admiral Schley's assistant counsel.

Rear Admiral Howison is one of the youngest retired officers of his grade, having been retired October 10, 1899, when he reached the age of 62. During the early part of the war he served principally on blockade duty, but later participated in the battle of Mobile Bay as commander of the United States steamer Bienville. It is rather an interesting coincident that he was in command of the cruiser Vandalia at Samoa, which later went down in the hurricane in Apia harbor while flying the flag of Rear Admiral Kimberly, who had succeeded him as senior officer on the station, and whom he now succeeds on this court. He was in command of the Boston yard during the Spanish war and later was commander of the South Atlantic station. He made the famous long distance cruise around Africa in the Chicago, as the last act of his active career, arriving in New York the day before Admiral Dewey arrived on the Olympia. It will be remembered that although he outranked Admiral Sampson, who was in command of the receiving fleet at that time, he refrained from assuming command, but courteously allowed Admiral Sampson to do the honors upon that celebrated occasion.

A preliminary list of the witnesses who will be called to appear before the court has been prepared at the navy department. Some of those officers are on foreign stations and will be obliged to leave for home almost immediately in order to arrive in time.

Admiral Schley has also submitted a list of witnesses, some of whom are on foreign stations, and these also will be ordered home.

Capt. James Parker, Admiral Schley's assistant counsel, appeared at the navy department today to resume his investigation of the official records in connection with the disputed points in the Santiago campaign. He was given a desk in the secretary's office, as he was last week, and such records as he called for were placed at his disposal by the bureau of navigation.

NUMBER OF DEAD IS UNKNOWN

Seven Bodies Taken From Ruins Wrought by the Explosion in Philadelphia and Many More Are Believed to Be Dead.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 6.—Seven persons, all colored, are known to be dead as a result of the terrible gasoline explosion last night which tore to atoms six buildings on Lucust street between Tenth and Eleventh streets and wrecked over a score of others.

As to the number that yet remain in the ruins of the wrecked buildings all is mere speculation.

But one of the seven that perished has been identified. This is Annie Harris, a child 4 years old, who lived at 1013 Locust street, on the opposite side of the street from the building in which the explosion occurred.

The unidentified dead are: A child about 2 years of age; two women and a man at the Pennsylvania hospital, and a man at the Jefferson hospital.

It was 7 o'clock this morning before firemen, after working hard all night, had the smouldering ruins sufficiently cooled off to enable them to begin a search for the bodies which are supposed to be beneath the wrecked buildings.

THE BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Their attention was first directed to 1018 Locust street, the building occupied by Albert D. Mountain, grocer. In this building at the time of the explosion there were Robert and Dalton Mountain and Lizzie Mountain, children of the proprietor of the store. None of them has been accounted for. No. 1016 Locust street was occupied by Patrick Quigley as a grocery. Quigley, his wife, three children and an uncle were in the building when the explosion occurred. The only ones in this family thus far accounted for is Quigley and his uncle. At 1014 Locust street George McClenny also conducted a small grocery. It is here that the explosion is thought to have occurred. The building was occupied by McClenny, his wife, a clerk and a servant. At the time of the disaster Mrs. McClenny was visiting in West Philadelphia and the others are thought to have been in the building.

Where the greatest number probably perished is at 1012 Locust street. Here William Jones, colored, conducted a boarding house. He had a score of boarders, but the number in the building at the time cannot be learned positively. The police officials say, however, that it is probable that half a dozen bodies

How it Was Made and Retained in Fort Wayne.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Fort Wayne residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mrs. Sarah Schrage, of 57 Huffman street, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time and was unable to get relief. My back ached very badly and when I tried to stoop I was taken with a stitch across the small of my back which was very painful. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store and they soon drove away every symptom of kidney disorder. I had some trouble in taking them at first, as it is very hard for me to swallow a pill, but I soon found that I could break them up and take them just as well, as there is no bad taste to them."

JACK CASE AGAIN IN COURT

AFTER LONG VACATION HE IS ASKED TO PLEAD.

Had a Jag and a Troublesame Manner—Young Man Held for Forgery—News of the Police.

Judge Louttit being out of the city, J. R. Bittenger again sat as special judge at police court this morning. Jack Case, the notorious, who has been on his good behavior for a number of months, was the first individual to face the throne. Jack was charged with drunkenness, and although other actions of his were not referred to in the affidavit, it was developed on hearing the evidence that he had been very abusive to his brother's wife, who is in a delicate condition. He terrorized the household and was a big man until the wagon arrived. He pleaded guilty to bing drunk, but took occasion to remind the court that he had been so good for a long time that his limbs ached. The judge remarked that in consideration of his model conduct for a short period he would make the fine only $5 and costs, which elected Jack to sixteen days in the bastile.

A YOUTHFUL FOPGER.

Charles Cunningham, a young man only 17, yet old enough to have an unsavory reputation in police circles, was arrested last evening by Superintendent Gorseline and Detective Coling for forgery. The circumstances were about as follows: Yesterday afternoon Cunningham went to the Jacobs shoe store and offered to discount a due bill on T. J. Peter for $30 for $28.50. Occasionally Mr. Peter issues time bills to employes which they have cashed between pay days at various stores down town. The due bills or time orders are invariably redeemed by Mr. Peter on regular pay days. The order presented to Mr. Lehman at the shoe store read as follows:

"Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 5, 1901.—Due Chas. Cunningham the sum of thirty ($30) dollars.

"T. J. Peter.
"Mc."

Mr. Lehman was suspicious of the order when it was presented, but told the young man that he did not have the money right then but if he would come in in an hour or so he would be pleased to cash it for him at the discount offered. The young man said he would be back and Mr. Lehman telephoned Superintendent Gorsline. Communication was immediately had with Mr. Peter, from whom it was learned that no such a bill as the one presented had been issued. The superintendent and Detective Coling went to the store and kept in the background awaiting the arrival of Cunningham, who promptly put in an appearance and was pleasantly greeted by Mr. Lehman, who handed him out $28.50 for his due bill. Then the officers took a hand and in few minutes Cunningham was landed back of the bars. This morning he pleaded guilty to uttering the forged paper, but denied having written it. He said a friend of his wrote the bill and gave it to him to have cashed. This statement is born out by the fact that the chirography of Cunningham's signature on the back of the bill does not correspond with that of the face of the paper. After hearing the evidence Judge Bittenger bound the young man over to the circuit court in the sum of $500, in default of which bond Cunningham was remanded to jail.

POLICE NOTES.

Officer Strodel is on the sick list and did not report for duty last night.

Stationmaster Terry's night blooming cereus made schedule time last night and by 9 o'clock four of the prettiest specimens of the flower were in full bloom. From 8:30 to 11 o'clock the proud floriculturalist's front yard was visited by hundreds of persons who were aware of the blooming of the plant and came to see the unusual exhibition of one of nature's prettiest freaks.

The patrol wagon made a quick run to No. 110 Shawnee avenue last evening to remove William Dunlap to St. Joseph hospital, where a heroic operation was performed upon him. The physicians in charge of the case said that promptness was an essential to saving the man's life, so the police ambulance cut off a few of its best licks.

Fort Wayne is now a full fledged member of the national bureau of identification. Superintendent Gorsline having received his certificate of membership this morning. The application was filed some weeks ago.

JUDGE PRICE DEAD.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Judge William Cecil Price, United States treasurer under President Buchanan, died here today at the home of his son-in-law, William S. Newberry, aged eighty-six years. Judge Price settled in Springfield, Mo., in the early 30's. He became prominent in the ranks of the democratic party, and when Buchanan was elected he was chosen United States treasurer. When Buchanan ordered Major Anderson to reinforce Fort Sumter Judge Price resigned his office in anger. He was with General Price at the battle of Pea Ridge and was captured by the federal forces and confined in the prison at Alton, Ill., until September, 1862, when he was exchanged.

Judge Price has been in ill health for some time owing to his advanced age, and the end was not unexpected. The body will be taken to Madison, Wis., for interment Thursday.

LOUIS PARISOE DEAD.

Word was received by the Misses Emma and Mary Parisoe, of 58 East Jefferson street, this morning, announcing the death of their brother, Louis Parisoe, which occurred Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, in Chillicothe, Ohio. Deceased was 63 years old and resided in Fort Wayne about twenty-five years ago. He was for a long time an engineer on the Pennsylvania. His home was in Danville, Ill., and he leaves a wife and six children. Mr. Parisot was a traveling salesman for Sells Bros., of Philadelphia, and sustained a sunstroke last Tuesday, from the effects of which he succumbed last evening. The interment will take place at Danville.

A SMALL RACE WAR.

Steubenville, Ohio, Aug. 6.—At the National Steel company's furnace at Mingo Junction today several striking Hungarians attempted to take their old positions, which had been filled by Italians. A fight ensued, which ended in the Italians being ejected from the mill. All the Hungarians who went out are now back at work in their former positions and without getting the increases for which they struck.

NONE KILLED IN RIOTS.

London, Aug. 6.—A dispatch received here from Belgrade says there is no truth in the report circulated by a news agency in the United States that sixteen persons were killed and that nineteen were wounded during election disturbances at Prokuplie, Servia. The dispatch adds that the elections passed off without disorder.

LEACH'S LIABILITIES GROWING.

forming it to meet the requirements of the banking business. It was the first bank ever established here, and the progress of the work was watched with acute interest. The furniture and fixtures came. They were gorgeous in pattern and must have cost a pretty penny, but this only increased the public confidence in the enterprise.

IN OTHER ENTERPRISES.

The bank opened in January, 1900: funds appeared to be plenty, and within a short time depositors began transferring their banking business from Kendallville to the new concern. Leach brought his wife from Chicago, and the couple made their home at the Dolan hotel. They were people of culture and refinement and were soon central figures in the social life of the place.

From the first Leach announced his purpose to make Avilla his permanent home and within a short time he purchased a handsome tract of ground on North Main street, and a Chicago architect prepared plans for an elaborate home for the banker. Almost at the same time he leased a blacksmith and wagon shop, then unused, installed workmen in it and began the manufacture of carriages. Soon it was stated that he was planning to erect a large factory. This was not done, but instead he leased another business building, secured more workmen and continued the carriage building upon a larger scale under the name of the Avilla Carriage works.

Meantime progress was being made upon the construction of the banker's home in the north part of town. Through weary months it slowly grew to completion, the most elaborate and expensive home for miles around. No modern convenience was omitted and the residence is a literal palace. The furnishings are upon an equally gorgeous scale and it was but a few weeks ago that the banker and his wife moved into the new home. They had hardly settled down to the enjoyment of the comforts of the elegant place when the crash came.

HE BOUGHT BONDS.

Another move which inspired the confidence of the people in the stability of the banking institution was Mr. Leach's purchase of a block of waterworks bonds issued by the town of Avilla soon after he located there. There was spirited bidding for the securities and the new banker paid a handsome premium for them. Subsequently they were disposed of, however, for they are now held by an Indianapolis capitalist.

The depositors in the defunct bank included not only the people of the town, but a large number of well-to-do farmers in the surrounding territory. Practically every business man in Avilla had a deposit account there, though in most cases the amounts were comparatively small, and none of them will be seriously crippled. Something like $1,100 of the town's finances were in the institution and the banker had been accepted as one of the sureties of the town treasurer. The Odd Fellows' lodge is another sufferer. In many instances among the depositors of smaller means the savings of almost a lifetime were represented in the amounts deposited with the concern.

REMARK IS RECALLED.

Since the failure of the concern one citizen recalls a remark made by the banker several months ago that in the light of recent developments takes on a significant aspect. This man, who was employed by one of the railroads here, remarked to the banker that he was tired of railroading and that if he had a little more money he would engage in business here.

"It's easy enough to get money to enter business," said Mr. Leach.

"But when I go into business I want to have sufficient capital of my own to pay cash for goods and not go into debt," rejoined the railroad man.

"Well," said Mr. Leach, "why don't you find a good little town and start a small bank?"

"With not enough money to go into mercantile business, how do you expect me to start a bank?"

"Well, sir," was the banker's reply, "you would be surprised to know upon how little money one can start a bank."

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works held a meeting yesterday afternoon approving the contract of the Barber asphalt company for paving Fairfield avenue, listened to the contentions regarding the platting of Jefferson Park addition by J. M. Henry. With Mr. Henry on one side and a number of contiguous property owners on the other, the contention lay regarding the dedication of an alley through the plat or at one side of it. Mr. Henry agreed to give seven feet of his land toward the alley provided the property owners would purchase an additional seven feet. The opposition claimed that the alley had been in use by the public for many years and that no purchase or further dedication is necessary. The board did not decide the matter, and it may have to be taken to the courts for adjustment.

The board granted to the bodies represented in the trades council the privilege of using Swinney park for the annual labor day celebration.

The water works department was this morning notified of the arrival of the long expected Downie pump over the Wabash road.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

Henry Schroeder has filed an affidavit in Bullermann's court charging Frederick Buhr, the East Wayne street grocer, with selling liquor without a license. Schroeder swears that he bought a drink of liquor from Buhr on the 29th day of July and paid for it in the coin of the realm. Buhr does not deny that he has sold liquor frequently and that he has no license, but in spite of these admissions he filed an affidavit for a change of venue. Justice Bullermann sent the case to Justice Rayhouser, of Washington township, before whom it will be tried tomorrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock—maybe. The trial of the case is up to the prosecutor. Meanwhile, one William Henze is running a saloon at No. 20 Clinton street, where he has been doing business since the 6th of last November without a license, and where he continues to do business without a license.

Justice Bullermann says he was much surprised to learn from a morning paper that he was holding an assault and battery case against Charles Nahrwald under advisement. He says his recollection is that he acquitted the young man within one minute after the testimony was all in.

William Kiser last evening filed affidavits in Bullermann's court charging Henry and Charles Preistoffer with obstructing the sidewalk and alley adjacent to Fred Kiser's tailor shop, on Harrison street, near Main. The hearing of evidence continued far into the night and at the conclusion of the trial a verdict for the defendants was given.

Some days ago Emil Ramm, a south side saloonkeeper, accused George Burkett with having shot his dog. He filed an affidavit to that effect, but no arrest was made until this morning. The hearing of the case will be in Huser's court.

There was a lively fight at Williamsport, this county, last Saturday night, in which William Schultz, a big farmer, got decidedly the worst of it. The participants were all partially intoxicated and had had trouble before the big fight was pulled off. Schultz is a very big fellow and none of his assailants cared to tackle him single handed, so they waited until he started through an alley to get his horse when they landed on him and used him up pretty badly. Yesterday he came to town and in France's court filed affidavits against Bob Rhoades (colored); "Cash" Lotz and Peter Ludwig. Deputies Daseler and Reichelderfer went out last evening to make the arrests. Ludwig got away, but the other two were brought to town and locked up. They were taken before Justice France this morning who set the time for the hearing for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Being unable to furnish bail the defendants went to jail.

Charles Fuller, one of the young fellows implicated in the trouble at Huntertown two weeks ago, when a house of bad repute was put out of business, completed his sentence this morning. He was immediately rearrested and taken before Justice Bullermann on a charge of associating with prostitutes. He was fined $18.50 and sent back to jail to serve out his time.

Two affidavits have been filed in France's court against Hanna Wise, of Barr street. One charges assault and battery on Effie Merriman and the other is for a peace bond. The warrants are in the hands of a constable and will be served as soon as the party can be found.

will be taken from the debris of this building alone.

At 1010 Locust street M. Rosenthal, wife and five children lived They escaped with broken limbs and contusions, but the building was completely wrecked.

BLOWN FORTY FEET.

In the Rosenthal home was a boarder named Frank Schmidt. He was seated at a third-story window reading when the explosion occurred. Schmidt was blown through the window and landed upon the top of a stable forty feet from the wrecked buildings. He escaped with a few bruises.

Forty-eight perons all told were taken to the two hospitals close at hand. Of this number six are probably fatally injured, twenty-eight are suffering from fractured limbs and burns, while the injuries of the others consist of slight cuts from flying debris. The block where the explosion occurred is in a section populated largely by colored persons.

The building where the explosion is supposed to have occurred is in the center of the group of houses situated between Alder and Warbeck streets, small thoroughfares running parallel with Tenth street. In this space on the south side of Locust street the demolition is complete, while on the opposite side of the street not a pane of glass nor a door remained intact.

EXPLOSION TERRIFIC.

The force of the explosion was terrific. Huge plate glass windows in the building occupied by the Western Saving Fund, which is located more than a block from where the disaster occurred, were broken into thousands of pieces, while scarcely a house or store wtihin a radius of a block escaped broken windows or shattered doors.

The scene at the wreck and at the hospitals this morning is sickening. Persons who had relatives and friends living in the wrecked structures are standing about weeping and almost distracted, hoping that their loved ones may have escaped a terrible death, but fearful of the worst.

The work of searching in the ruins is necessarily slow. There is a steady downpour of rain, which makes the debris hard to handle.

The property loss will amount to about $75,000, on which there is small insurance.

GIVES NOTICE TO THE COMBINE.

city, now tied up by the Amalgamated association, but a rumor is current in the west end today that an effort will be made to start the Painter mill non-union this week. A number of fires in the mill have been lighted and while the management refuses to talk, there is every indication that something in that direction is being planned.

This morning it was reported that the management had secured three rollers, one of them a striker, who have agreed to go back. It is also said that they will get enough helpers today to start the trio on one set of rolls. A number of the strikers were seen and they say that they have heard the report and believe it to be true.

At Clark's mill and the plant of Lindsay & McCutcheon conditions are unchanged.

SITUATION ELSEWHERE.

Leechburg, Pa.—Two mills of the Hyde Park plant, which started up yesterday, worked through the night and are still in operation. No trouble has occurred, but a clash between the strikers and non-union men at midnight was narrowly averted. There is a noticeable increase of strikers' friends about the town today, while only a few new men came from Apollo and Vandergrit to work in the mill.

McKeesport, Pa.—The strikers and mill officials are inactive. The Amalgamated association is engaged in strengthening its organization in the two rolling mills of the National Tube company and it is now announced that every man in the Boston plant will come out and that 95 per cent. of the men in the National mill are members of the association. The Amalgamated officials also claim that in spite of the vigilance of the mill officials lodges have been formed in the Carnegie mills at Homestead and Duquesne.

Wellsville, Ohio.—The plant is working stronger today than at any time since the strike began. Five of the six mills were running and Manager Brookman says it will only be a question of a day or so until the plant will be running in full capacity. The strikers are orderly and are no longer interfering with the non-union men.

START A CLEVELAND MILL.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 6.—Fires were lighted early today in the furnaces of the hot-milling department of the Crescent works of the American Tin Plate company on bessemer steel. This plant has been closed since the inauguration of the Amalgamated strike. The superintendent of the mills said operations would be resumed this afternoon and declared that the old men would return to work.

The strike leaders, however, denounced the latter statement as false. While they admitted there might be a few desertions from their ranks, not enough men, it was said, would be secured to operate the mill.

Indications today pointed to the abandonment by the United States Steel corporation of the plan to operate a hoop mill in Cleveland. A big force of men was put to work this morning removing the hoop machinery from the mill. It is understood that the building will now be used as a bloom mill.

It is also stated on good authority that the steel corporation will abandon its 12 and 18-inch mills at Newburg and that they will be shortly equipped as bloom mills. The manufacture of blooms is not affected by the present strike.

THE SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Negotiations for a settlement of the labor troubles having resulted in failure, the indications now are that the strike will not be ended until after a bitter and protracted struggle. Mayor Phelan's closing statement of his services as mediator presents both sides of the controversy.

Governor Gage is now in the city and has been for two days, watching the progress of events in the labor troubles. He has been gathering information at first hand and has interviewed the labor leaders. He came to San Francisco expressly to be on the ground in the event of any emergency arising requiring his presence, and has declared his intention to serve as a mediator between the employer and the employes should his services be desired.

Eugene M. Fitch, who was one of the fortunate ones on the drawing of the new Oklahoma lands, will remain in the west and prove up his claim, though Mr. Fitch has no idea of engaging in agricultural pursuits permanently. Instead of this, he will embark in the real estate, loan and insurance business, probably at Anadarko. M. T. Stokes, who went to Oklahoma with Mr. Fitch and also secured a quarter section of land, will return home soon to prepare for removal there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas were pleasantly surprised last evening by a company of their friends, who called to spend the evening in honor of the fifth anniversary of their marriage.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The Dominion day of Canada, which was celebrated on July 1, will find on January 1 next its counterpart in the southern hemisphere in Commonwealth day, which Australia, it is expected, will celebrate with becoming vigor.

By comparing the statistics of English and Scotch universities in a given year it was found that Scotland, with a population of 3,725,000, had 6,500 university students, while England had only 6,000 students out of a population about six times as great.

In a few weeks the women of Norway will be ready to take part in the local elections as full-fledged voters. A bill conferring the municipal franchise upon women has passed both houses of the Norwegian parliament (storthing) and will become a law at the end of the present session.

Singapore Chinamen are indignant with the English on account of the Duke of York's visit. Some officials thought fit to decorate the hats of the jinrikshas men with gold buttons, the Chinese mark of mandarin rank, and the Chinese in the colony refuse to accept apologies for the insult.

TUB TRUTHS.

A DROP of ink will color a whole glass of water. It is an inch of yeast which makes a pan of bread rise, and a single cake of soap containing unabsorbed alkali can ruin a hundred times its cost in laces and fine embroidery. After all, is it wise to take such risks with common soap? Of course you can get along without Ivory Soap. So can a wagon without axle grease—but it goes hard.

Robison Park Theater—Vaudeville.

Andrew Carnegie has extended his benevolence to Porto Rico, which is a good place for it.

At least the mosquito war does not impose onerous burdens on humanity and the mosquitoes do not appear to mind it a great deal.

Russell Sage has just passed into his eighty-sixth year, but against the time when he will be old and infirm he is working as usual to add to the little hoard that is to keep the wolf from his door.

The Bill Henze "pull" continues to be the best thing of the kind ever established in this city. Meanwhile, the mystery grows: How does he do it and how much does it cost? As an experiment, information may be urged with the prosecuting attorney.

"Banker" Leach, of Avilla, and "Banker" Key, of Andrews, had undoubtedly heard of the Napoleonic financial career of one Zimri Dwiggins in a number of northern Indiana towns. Zimri cut a somewhat wider swath, but he did not cut down to any shorter stubble. The town sites of Avilla and Andrews were not removed.

A rather grotesque story comes from New York to the effect that the steel strike will in reality be a war to the knife between John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan. It is pointed out that the rivalry between these two great money kings has grown bitter and that in this strike Rockefeller has a chance to land hard on the Morgan solar plexus. In clearer and plainer terms, it is said that Rockefeller will furnish the Amalgamated association with plenty of money to carry on its fight with the gigantic Morgan steel syndicate. No doubt the steel strikers would welcome a few millions of Rockefeller's reputed billion, but the amount they are likely to receive won't be a heap of bother to the treasurer of the Amalgamated association.

A CHANCE FOR PEACE.

The evident reluctance of President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, to issue orders for a general strike in all of the mills of the steel trust rather indicates that he has not entirely abandoned belief in the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the trouble. It is to be hoped it is the flash of a real ray of promise and not the glimmer of an ignis fatuus that he sees.

There has been a rumor that J. P. Morgan's conduct of the negotiations on the part of the steel combine with the Amalgamated board has not been entirely satisfactory to his associates. This is not at all improbable, and it may be that such dissatisfaction will lead to another conference. At all events, the country generally will wish there may be another effort to bring about peace. The strike now imminent gives full promise of becoming not only the largest gigantic but the most bitterly contested war between capital and labor this country has ever seen. And it comes at a time when it can least be afforded either by capital or labor.

While a question of abstract principle is a most difficult issue to submit to arbitration, it might avert a calamitous labor war if both parties to the dispute would agree upon some impartial man of distinguished public relations to help bring about an honorable peace.

ARMY SURGEON SUICIDES.

Alameda, Cal., Aug. 6.—Dr. Charles Hamden Field committed suicide today by inhaling illuminating gas. He was formerly a surgeon in the United States army at Fort Wayne, Mich. He was also an ex-surgeon of the pension bureau, and at one time surgeon of the Union Pacific railroad.

REPUBLICANS OF MARYLAND

NOMINATE A TICKET AND ADOPT A PLATFORM.

National Issues Emphasized in the Declarations of the Party—Democrats Denounced.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—The issues in the campaign which will determine whether or not Arthur Pue Gorman will again occupy a seat in the United States senate and become a factor in national politics were fully made up today by the action of the republicans at their state convention.

They met here, as did the democrats a week ago, and like the democrats paid more attention to the adoption of a platform than to the selection of candidates for the minor offices of controller and clerk of the court of appeals.

There were but two aspirants for the former position whose names were under consideration before the convention assembled. Of these ex-Congressman Isaac N. Barber, of Talbot, was the favorite from the eastern shore, while Terman S. Platt, of Baltimore City, was understood to be the choice of the leaders and of the delegates from most of the western counties.

Thomas F. Parran, of Calvert, was far and away the leader in the race for clerk of the court of appeals, his opponent being James E. Belt, of Prince Georges, and James E. Waddell, of Dorchester.

The friends of former Congressman Barber decided before the convention assembled not to present his name for the state controllership and Messrs. Belt and Waddell withdrew from the race for the clerkship of the court of appeals. This left the delegates nothing to do but to nominate by acclamation the following ticket:

For State Controller—Hermann S. Platt, of Baltimore City.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals—Thomas Parran, of Colvert county.

The platform is the work of United States Senator McComas and Philips Lee Goldsborough, chairman of the state central committee, who is regarded as a promising candidate for the seat of Senator Wellington in the event of republican success.

Unlike the democratic declaration of principles adopted last week much stress is laid upon national issues. The administration of President McKinley is heartily endorsed; the policy of the republican party upon the tariff, the currency and other vital questions of national moment is vigorously commended, while that of the democrats in the state is quite as vigorously denounced. Governor Smith comes in for a full measure of condemnation for having called the special session of the legislature which was held in the spring of this year while the party which placed him in office is soundly berated for having passed the new election laws.

NEW RULE APPRECIATED.

That the order allowing subscribers to choose books from the shelves at the public library is decidedly popular is evinced by the increasing patronage of the circulation department, especially by the younger people, who are beginning to take a lively interest in the "children's corner." Books from the reference department are called for more often and it is a noticable fact that regular subscribers come more frequently than has been their custom heretofore. Everything at the temporary quarters is now ready for the convenience of the public and the indications point to a much larger patronage this year than ever before.

INDIANS ARE FIGHTING.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 6.—In a fight yesterday on the Flathead Indian reservation six Indians and three half-breeds exchanged a number of shots. One of the Indians was shot in the arm. The Indians objected to the half-breeds picking up cattle on the reservation and further trouble is feared.

HAPPENINGS IN HOOSIERDOM

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Oakland City, Ind., Aug. 6.—In defense of his own life, according to the story he told the sheriff, James Harbison shot and instantly killed Frank Osborn, his rival, three miles west of this city yesterday afternoon. Osborn, who is said to have sworn to kill Harbison, went to the field where his intended victim was at work, and, it is alleged, told Harbison to prepare to die, as he had come to "blow out his heart." Harbison, in anticipation of trouble with Osborn, it is said, was armed, and before his alleged would-be slayer could execute his threat Harbison drew his revolver and shot his adversary through the heart.

Both the young men were suitors for the hand of the same girl, and were insanely jealous of each other. According to the friends of Harbison, in the trouble between the rivals, Osborn was the aggressor. Harbison came to Oakland City last night and surrendered to the sheriff.

NEELY CASE DEPOSITIONS.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 6.—Attorney J. J. M. LaFollette, assistant federal district attorney for Indiana, was in Muncie yesterday and before United States Commissioner Ellis evidence was taken in the Neely Cuban postal robbery case, from Muncie witnesses, who will not go to the island to testify for the government. Ross J. Cowan, of the Neely Printing company; Harry Richey, of the Muncie postoffice force, who was employed in the postal service in Cuba; W. D. Kutz and others testified, and their depositions will be sent to Cuba at once.

Mr. LaFollete refused to give out anything concerning the nature of the depositions, but late last night it was learned that W. D. Kutz, head bookkeeper for the Union National bank, testified that after Neely went to Cuba he put more than $40,000 on deposit in the institution to his own credit. Ross J. Cowan, president of the Neely Printing company, testified that after he had purchased Neely's interest in the company, the government printing secured from Neely on behalf of the Cuban authorities amounted to about $10,000. It had been supposed heretofore that this item did not exceed $2,000 or $3,000. The testimony of the other witnesses was unimportant.

SUIT FOR $30,000.

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 6.—About 6 o'clock last evening Morgan L. Miers, a wealthy farmer, filed suit for $30,000 damages against S. P. Minear, a merchant, for alleged alienation of his wife's affections. Mr. Minear is making preparations to leave for New York on business and the papers were served upon him at once. The suit is the result of some trouble between the men last week. Miers returned from his farm one night and found Minear at his city home, in the company of Mrs. Miers, and there was an encounter between them. Miers also has filed suit for divorce.

BARNS AND GRAIN BURNED.

LaGrange, Ind., Aug. 6.—Two barns and a sheep shed on Representative Gillett's farm, two miles west of here, burned yesterday afternoon. The fire was caused by a spark from a stacker. The insurance is $200. Farmers rescued four horses. Several hogs, a thresher, 400 bushels of wheat and rye and some hay were consumed. Thomas Carter, a neighbor, jumped from a burning stack and broke his heel bone, also spraining his ankle very seriously. James Boyd, the tenant, had $200 insurance on his stock.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 6.—The trustees of the Northern Indiana Baptist association have chosen the following officers: President, William A. Banks, Laporte; vice president, G. T. Hodsden, South Bend; secretary and treasurer, W. D. Spore, Laporte.

FINE FISHERMEN.

Bourbon, Ind., Aug. 6.—Deputy Fish Commissioner James Liggett of Marshall county, and Frank Miller, of Kosciusko, each made a general raid over his territory last Saturday, gathering in twenty-seven gill nets and eight spears in Twin lakes, Huffman and Cedar lakes. The fines and costs assessed amount to over $30 in each case. Rev. O. R. Jones, of Cedar Lake, was found with a net in his possession.

WAIF FINDS HER FATHER.

Brazil, Ind., Aug. 6.—Dollie Andrews, a waif sheltered by the Child savings institute at Omaha, Neb., is revealed to be the daughter of John Richards, a wealthy merchant of this city. The father has been looking for the child for ten years. He intrusted her to the Andrews woman when she was four years old. Mrs. Andrews was separated from her husband and went on the vaudeville stage. She confessed the child's identity upon her death bed.

ON A HEINOUS CHARGE.

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 6.—Late yesterday afternoon Abe Buchanan, of this city, was arrested at Williamstown, Ind., and brought here by Sheriff Davis and lodged in jail on an affidavit, filed by his wife, charging him with criminal assault on their nine-year-old daughter, Jennie Buchanan. The girl told her mother and also some neighbors that she had been ravished by her father and a physician was called. The affidavit was filed on his report. The case will be heard by Justice Thomas Powers. Buchanan is a day laborer, about thirty-four years old.

THIRD ATTEMPT SUCCESSFUL.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 6.—Mrs. William Bostos, the wife of a prosperous resident of Rosedale, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by drinking a large quantity of carbolic acid. After preparing dinner and placing it on the table she went into an adjoining room, where she was found on the floor writhing in death agonies by her husband, who rushed into the room when he heard her say, "Good bye, Bill." Despondency is supposed to be he cause of her rash act. She attempted to end her life twice before.

BIG FINES FOR LIQUOR MEN.

Rutland, Vt., Aug. 6.—The heaviest sentences that have been imposed in Vermont for many years for violation of the prohibitory laws were given yesterday to the liquor dealers of Vermont by R. S. Taft, of Burlington, chancellor of the court of chancery. These men have heretofore escaped with small occasional fines and have grown rich at the business. John Barrett, proprietor of the Brunswick hotel, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100; Walter Jasmine, druggist, six months' imprisonment and $500; Martin McMahon, druggist, six months' imprisonment and $500; James Gilrain, owner of the Hotel Commercial, six months' imprisonment and $200; William Dugan, druggist, $750; Stephen Cragin, druggist, $750; John Welch, druggist, $250. Two of Rutland's four hotels, the Brunswick and Commercial, and West Rutland's only hotel, the West Rutland house, against which a case is pending, are now closed, their owners declaring that they cannot be run at a profit without the bars.

SHAM WAR WITH REAL LOSSES.

New York, Aug. 6.—Commenting upon the naval manouvres in which the attacking squadron supposed to represent "the enemy" has just been declared victor the Tribune's London correspondent says:

"There has been more realism in these manouvres than the admiralty authorities had expected. Not only have two torpedo boat destroyers been lost, but it is reported that several others have been crippled. The wreck of the Viper was, of course, the most serious accident of the maneuvres. This vessel was an experiment, and her performances were being witnessed with a critical eye by the admiralty experts. The destroyer Violet is reported to be in a bad way. Nearly all her water tube boilers have been disabled through split tubes, and it was only by great presence of mind and prompt action that the stokers were saved from being scalded to death. There are rumors of incidents of a similar nature on other vessels, about which there will probably be a full inquiry."

NERVES LIKE A FLAT-IRON.

A woman who suffered for three years from nervous prostration says two bottles of Lichty's Celery Nerve Compound effected a complete cure. She hardly knows today whether she has nerves or not, as she never feels them. It is certainly a wonderful remedy. Sold by Dreier & Bro., corner Calhoun and Columbia streets.

DIED OF BLOOD POISONING.

Ballstone, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Prof. Sidney Sherwood, of Johns Hopkins university, died at Ballstone Center last evening. He was spending his vacation on a farm and while tying a tree on July 26 accidentally cut his right hand. Blood poisoning set in and resulted in his death. The body will be taken to Cornwall-on-the-Hudson for burial.

GARDEN TRUCK HIGH.

The market this morning was unusually light and prices of country produce ranged unusually high. New potatoes sold at 30 cents a peck, corn at 15 cents a dozen and other stuff correspondingly high. The market gardeners say that the dry weather has made their crop very light and they predict still greater scarcity and higher prices.

ROBISON PARK THEATER.

Ever since the engagement of Charles Wayne and Anna Caldwell at Robison Park the management of this popular resort has been urged by its many patrons to again present to them another high-class attraction and after duly considering the request of the many, the management has decided to present Hilda Thomas and company, which is considered one of the strongest cards on the vaudeville stage, of whom the Boston Herald has the following to say:

"There have been a number of good comedians here within the past few weeks, some with new-made reputations and others who are old standbys, but in the list of impersonators Hilda Thomas stands very near the top. In the first place, Miss Thomas is a lady with a charming personality, and on the stage that counts for much. In her sketch called 'Miss Ambition' she has an opportunity to introduce a number of characters, all of which are very different, but in each she has made a decided hit. Miss Thomas' humor is of the spontaneous character. She is bubbling over with it, and it is infectious. She smiles the smile of good nature and is true to life every time. Her Bowery girl is among the best of the many that have been seen on the stage in recent years, and as a society lady she is equally natural, but good-natured withal. That the audience was pleased and appreciated her was shown by the rounds of applause last evening, and she certainly made one of the greatest hits in a bill that contained a number of favorites."

In addition to this attraction there will be four other high-class acts, making the bill for that week one of the strongest and most expensive ever given at the park. For this week the prices will be as follows: Box seats, 50 cents; first twelve rows, 25 cents; next eight rows, 15 cents; general admission, 10 cents. Seats now on sale at Alter's cigar store.

The Theosophical society has removed its headquarters in the Elektron building and the library officials have leased the room vacated by them, which will be used as a private office for the librarian, Miss Colerick.

Harry Pickard will go to Buffalo next Sunday, to remain a week.

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feebleness. It quiets the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wifely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Della Snider, of Wilkesville, Vinton Co., Ohio. "I was suffering from female trouble of the worst kind; I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me by spells; was nervous and weak. Had numb hands and arms, heart trouble, pains all through my body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at all. I got Dr. Pierce's medicine and took it as directed, and the first week it began to help me. I took three bottles and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DELEGATES ARRIVING TODAY

MINISTERS AND LAYMEN HERE FOR CONVENTION.

Annual Session of This District of Missouri German Lutheran Synod Opens Tomorrow.

The thirty-seventh annual gathering of the Central district of the Missouri synod of the German Lutheran church will open tomorrow morning at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Barr street, and delegates to the number of about 350 are expected to be in attendance. The delegates, ministers, professors, teachers and laymen began to arrive in the city this morning and it is believed that the full quota will be here for the opening session tomorrow morning.

The Central district comprises the states of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky and many of the leading Lutheran teachers and ministers in the three states will be in attendance. The sessions open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will continue until next Tuesday evening. At the service tomorrow morning Rev. P. Brand, of Pittsburg, will officiate, and the president of the district, Rev. J. Nieman, of Cleveland, O., will make his annual address and report. The balance of the morning will be devoted to a discussion of doctrines. In the afternoon there will be a business meeting and the subject of missions will be the chief topic of the day. Throughout the convention the order of doctrinal discussions in the morning and business sessions in the afternoon will be followed.

Arrangements have been made for several public services, and the first of these will be held on Thursday evening at 7:30 when Rev. Kuechele or Rev. Klausing will officiate. On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Rev. Schuss or Rev. Wilder will preach, and communion will be observed. In the evening the pulpit will be filled by Rev. P. Rump or Rev. P. Goring. The fourth public service will be held on Monday evening when Rev. F. Praetorius or Rev. P. Frank will preach, and communion will again be administered.

St. Paul's Lutheran church is the largest in point of numbers in the district, and conventions of a similar character have been held in it a number of times since the organization of the district. The congregation numbers nearly three thousand.

URGES FILIPINOS TO FIGHT.

Manila, Aug. 6.—Miguel Malavar, who has been recognized as the successor of Aguinaldo by the Filipino junta at Hong Kong, has issued a proclamation dated July 16, copies of which arrived here yesterday, giving assurances to the natives of the continuation of an active campaign and expressing hope for its successful issue.

The proclamation, of which 50,000 copies have been printed, purports to emanate from Batangas. It is a characteristic insurgent document, charging the Americans with all sorts of atrocities. It recounts the losses of guns and ammunition and the death of four distinguished American officers July 10, all of which, it says, the authorities concealed. The proclamation threatens General Gailles with death for treachery and warns all Filipinos who surrender that they will never be able to live outside the American lines. Malavar claims he has sufficient arms and supplies to continue the fighting indefinitely.

The American officials believe the proclamation was really written by Agoncilla, the former representative of Aguinaldo in Europe, at Hong Kong, and that he probably has never seen Malavar. Strong efforts are being made by the police to prevent the distribution of the proclamation.

SUICIDE OF INDIANA MAN.

Wichita, Kas., Aug. 6.—A respectable-looking young man of twenty-three committed suicide at the Hamilton hotel last night by taking laudanum. He tore his name off his marked garments, including his hat, and left an unsigned note asking that his body be kept for three days, when Elmer Scripturs, of Westport, Ind., would take charge of it. He is evidently a bank clerk as he had a letter from a bank of Hope, Ind., recommending Herbert Robbins. He registered under the apparently fictitious name of R. J. Harding, of St. Louis.

BEGIN WAR ON MOSQUITOES.

New York, Aug. 6—Dr. A. H. Doty, health officer of the port, and his assistants have at last commenced the war of destruction of the mosquitoes of Greater New York and vicinity. They have taken their paraphernalia, which consists largely of kerosene oil, to the pond near Concord, Staten Island, and forced barrels of the oil under the surface of the water. It was expected that while the fluid is making its way to the surface it will destroy all the embryonic mosquito life therein. Dr. Doty said he could not be positive about the success of the experiment for a month to come, but he thought it would work well. Dr. Eugene Monaghan, sanitary superintendent of the Borough of the Bronx, says he believes the malaria at Fordsham was caused by the mosquitoes. The experiments of Dr. Doty are being watched, and if they are successful the scattering of oil on the swamps and low places in Fordsham will be begun.

BLEW DRIVER TO ATOMS

WAGON AND TEAM WIPED OUT OF EXISTENCE.

Havoc Wrought by Explosion of 800 Quarts of Nitro-glycerine—Escape of Passenger Train.

Bowling Green, Ohio, Aug. 6.—Eight hundred quarts of nitro-glycerine, on a stock wagon, exploded on the Munn road near this city yesterday afternoon and blew the driver, the team and wagon to atoms. The accident occurred where the road crosses the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad, and an approaching passenger train narrowly escaped disaster.

The driver was Will Radabaugh, of the Hercules Torpedo company, and he was taking the glycerine to a magazine. He evidently saw the train approaching and endeavored to cross the track ahead of it, when the reckless gait over the rails probably caused the explosion. Fortunately the train was stopped before it had reached the great hole which the explosion made. The passengers were shaken up, and pieces of wood and iron were hurled against the cars. Traffic was stopped on the road for several hours.

A barn about 200 feet from where the explosion occurred was reduced to kindling wood and set on fire, and a house about 400 feet from the scene of the disaster was riddled and knocked out of all semblance to a building. Doors and windows were smashed and curtains and bedding torn into bits. Iron beds were twisted and not an article of furniture was left whole. Mrs. Abraham Teal and her two sons, Willie and Roland, aged 7 and 9, were in the house and their escape from death is a miracle, though neither the children nor their mother received a cut or mark. Mrs. Teal is in a precarious condition from the shock and it is feared that she may not recover. Pieces of timber were driven through the house, making a hole like a cannon ball. For some eighty rods in all directions the fences are swept out of existence.

A TRAVELER'S EXPERIENCE.

Both Sides of the Picture.

Sitting in the rotunda of the Planters' hotel, St. Louis, a gentleman who has traveled for many years as salesman, told, reminiscently, of the trials of one constantly on the move.

To the casual observer it looks easy. The traveler wears good clothes, stays at the best hotels, is always in good spirits (apparently anyway), and is never at a loss for a pleasant word. But the other side of the picture; the loneliness, the nervous tension, the constant mental and physical strain; only the traveler knows that it is not easy to always feel well; that the best of care must be taken of the stomach; that digestion must be perfect or failure is the result.

After trying many methods and remedies, he continued: "I have found that when tired and run down, as the result of indigestion and constipation, nothing helps me so quickly and surely as the Peptorene Health Tablets. Perfect digestion is at once restored and I meet my customers with renewed nerve and vigor. I certainly would not be without a box of this remarkable remedy." Manufactured by the Battle Creek Health Tablet Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Michigan.

STORIES FOR THIS EVENING.

TO A BOOKWORM.

Oh, gentle worm, most wise, though oft demeaned a part,
Who didst the pages of the ancients' books infest,
Their contents chew upon and inwardly digest,
I envy thee when o'er thy course I look!

For 'twixt the vellum walls of some sweet classic tome,
Mid leaves ink scented thou didst have thy cloistered home,
All margined round with virgin fields in which to roam
Where'er thou eeredst to leave thy lettered nook.

And when thou'dst riddled thy last line, O Primidus,
What happy destiny was thine, denied to us,
To lay thy sapient bones in such sarcophagus
And be forever buried in a book!

—John U. Finley in Century.

TAKING HIS ADVICE.

How a Man Applied a Rule He Intended For His Neighbor to Himself.

Mr. Sheldon was the principal merchant in the important manufacturing town of Tormont. He was proud of his wealth, but he was still more proud of the fact that he had made it all himself, and his pride was greatest because he had made it by never allowing anybody to get ahead of him.

"That's the secret of success in life, Harry," he said one day to his favorite clerk. "Sharp's the motto if you wish to rise. I don't mean you should cheat. That of course is both wrong and ungentlemanly." Mr. Sheldon prided himself also on being what he called a gentleman and above all little meannesses. "But always be wide awake and never let anybody cheat you. I've noticed, by the bye, that you've seemed rather downhearted lately. If it's because you've your fortune yet to make, don't despair, but follow my advice. An opening will come at some time for something better than a clerkship, and, though I shall be sorry to lose you, yet I'll give you up if it's for your interest."

"Thank you," said Harry, apparently not a bit cheered up by this cool way of being told he had nothing to expect from Mr. Sheldon, "but it's not exactly that. I suppose I shall get along somehow."

"What is it, my dear boy, then? I really take an interest in you, as you know." And he did so far as words were concerned. "Perhaps I can give you some advice."

"Well," said Harry, with some hesitation, "I'm in love, and"—

"In love!" exclaimed the rich merchant. "In love and with only a clerk's salary to marry on. It will never do—never do, Harry. Marriage for one like you is fastening a millstone round your neck unless indeed"—and he stopped, as if a bright thought had struck him—"unless indeed the girl is rich."

"She is rich, or will be, I suppose," answered Harry, "for her father is a wealthy man. But that's just the difficulty. Her father would never let her marry a poor man, and she won't marry without his consent."

"What a miserable tyrant!" said Mr Sheldon. "If I was the lover, Harry, I'd run off with her. I'd checkmate the old curmudgeon in that way." And he chuckled at the imaginary triumph he would achieve. "'Pon my soul, I would! I never, as I told you, let anybody take a rise out of me."

"But would that be honorable?"

"Honorable? Isn't everything fair in love and war? I thought you had some pluck, Harry. How I should like to see the stingy old hulk rave and stump about on his gouty toes—for he must be gouty—when he heard of your elopement!"

And he laughed till his portly sides shook at the picture he had conjured up.

"He'd probably never forgive me," said Harry dejectedly. "And then what could I do, with a wife brought up to every luxury and only a poor clerk's salary to support her on?"

"Never forgive you? Trash and nonsense! They always do forgive. They can't help it. Besides," with a confidential wink, "I think I know your man! It's that skinflint, Meadows. I've heard of your being sweet on his daughter. She's a pretty minx, though she is his child. Oh, you needn't deny it. I saw how you hung about her at our party the other night, and when I joked about it with my daughter the next morning she as good as admitted that it was true, saying it would be a very good match for you. Now, I owe old Meadows a grudge. He tried to do me in those railway shares last winter, and I mean to pay him for it somehow. I tell you what I'll do. I must not ask, mind you, who the girl is. Mum must be the word. I must not of course be known in the affair, but I'll give you leave of absence for a month and a check for $250 to pay for your wedding trip if you'll make a runaway match. Is it agreed? Well, there's my hand on it. Here's the check. Egad! Won't the old man howl when he hears how we've done him!"

Harry seemed to hesitate, however, and it was not until Mr. Sheldon, eager to see his old commercial rival put at a disadvantage, had urged him again and again and promised to stand by him that he finally consented and took the check which his employer persisted in forcing upon him.

The next morning Mr. Sheldon came down to breakfast in high glee, for a note had reached him just as he was shaving which ran as follows:

Dear Sir—I have, with much difficulty, persuaded her to elope. It was not, however, till I showed her your check that she would consent to do so. She said that she was sure you would not recommend anything that was wrong; that you would advise her as if you were her own father, and she hopes you will stand by us. We shall be married tomorrow, before Mr. Meadows is up. Very thankfully, HARRY CONRAD.

The old gentleman brought the note with him to the table, opened it out before him, adjusted his spectacles and read it over and over again.

"I'd give $100," he said, chuckling, "to see the old fellow's face when he hears how Harry has done him."

It was the custom of Mr. Sheldon to read his newspaper at breakfast while waiting for his only child and daughter, who, a little spoiled by overindulgence, was generally late.

But this morning Matty was later than ever.

The banker had read all the foreign as well as the home news and even perused Harry's note, and still she had not made her appearance.

"The lazy puss!" he said at last. Then he looked up at the clock. "Half an hour late! Now, this is really too bad. John," he cried, addressing the manservant at the sideboard, "send and see why Miss Sheldon doesn't come down. Tell her," with a severe air, "I'm tired of waiting."

John came back in about five minutes, looking very much flustered.

"If you please, sir," he stammered, "Miss Sheldon's not in her room, and the maid says that the bed looks as if it hadn't been slept in all night."

The rich merchant's jaw fell.

He started up, with a cry of agony, to go and see, but he was prevented by the footman appearing at the door with a telegram.

"A telegram!" cried the merchant, unfolding it with trembling hands. "What can it mean? Has she been found dead anywhere?"

This was the telegram:

Dear Father—Harry and I were married at 8 o'clock this morning. I would not consent to an elopement till Harry assured me you had advised it and had shown me your check as proof. He says you promised to stand by us, and I know you pride yourself on never breaking a promise. We wait for your blessing. MATTY.

"Well, I never!" ejaculated Mr. Sheldon when he had recovered his breath. "The impudent, disobe"—

But here he stopped—stopped and mopped his bald head, which, in his excitement, had broken out into great drops of perspiration. He remembered that he had himself advised Harry to elope and that if the story got wind he would be the laughing stock of the town, including—the hardest cut of all—Mr. Meadows. He remembered, too, that he had but one child and that she was all in all to him.

So he accepted the inevitable and telegraphed back:

You may come home, and the sooner the better, so as to keep the $250 for pin money. Tell Harry he's too sharp to remain a clerk and that I take him today into partnership; only he must remember that partners never tell tales out of school. God bless you! H. SHELDON.

The runaways returned by the next train. The marriage proved, too, an eminently happy one. The story never got out. We only tell it now in confidence.—Woman's Life.

A Little Umbrella Story.

One rainy evening when traffic on the elevated road was dull a guard on the Sixth avenue line found a comparatively new silk umbrella in one of the cars. When a lone passenger entered the car at Park place, the guard proudly showed his find.

"It comes in great for me tonight," he said. "This is my last trip, and I have a long walk. I had no umbrella."

The lone passenger, who was also without a rain protector, congratulated the guard.

The two carried on a pleasant conversation, only interrupted by stops at stations. In time the train reached the Eighty-first street station, where the passenger was to get out. The guard had carefully deposited his umbrella in a corner of the front platform of the car. While he was busy opening the gates the passenger quietly lifted it from its resting place and left the car. As the guard closed the gates and gave the bellcord a vigorous pull he saw his former passenger walking along the platform carrying the umbrella.

"Hey, there! Stop it! Bring that back!" shouted the guard.

"I need it myself," replied the recent passenger.

"Come back, I say! You are a thief!" cried the guard as the train slowly pulled out.

The new proprietor of the umbrella only smiled as he walked down the steps. He now shows the umbrella to his legal friends and quotes the old adage, "Possession is nine points of the law."—New York Times.

Amelia Knew Her Business.

Amelia was all sweet, nice and nervous, and she said to her sweetheart:

"You have been so old a friend I want to tell you something. I am," and she blushed, "I am going to be married."

"Wait!" he cried hoarsely. "Before you go further, hear me. I must say it, though I have no right now, but I will have less right later. I love you. I adore you. I have loved you since we were children together. I do not see how I can live and see you the wife of another. But at least you will know that I have loved you all these years, and when you hear the wind sigh over my distant grave—of course that is nonsense"—

"Don't take on so, John Henry," she said softly. "I'm going to marry—you!"

Then the strong man fainted, and as she bent over him a determined little line showed about her mouth, and she muttered, "I had to do something to bring him to it."

Champion High Jumper.

A curious lantern fly discovered by naturalists in the Malay archipelago possesses the power of jumping several feet without opening its wings. It has a projection on its head which, when bent back and suddenly released, throws the insect into the air. The fly was seen to jump from the ground to the roof of a hut.

AT THE URN.

Ida sitteth at the urn
Every afternoon at three,
S'nce that summer at Luverne
I am very fond of—tea.
"Sugar," "Thank you; just a lump."
Ah, Pilatus, proud and free,
How my foolish heart goes thump!
I am very fond of—tea.

Ida sitteth at the urn.
"One more cup!" "Why, certainly."
While we watched Swiss sunsets burn
I grew very fond of—tea.
Now we're married, in a flat;
She paints things; I write, you see;
Cheer and kisses and all that,
And we're very fond of—tea.

—Robert Loveman in Criterion.

With a View to Matrimony.

"Can I dew anything moar for ye, Sally?" said Bob Heron, the cowman, to his sister as he finished banging the mud and "muck" off the mats against the outhouse wall.

"Why, whatever ha' come to ye?" said his sister. "D'ye want anything?"

For years Sally had taken upon herself the unenviable task of looking after her old father and of "mothering" her three younger brothers. Her efforts to keep them going in food and clothes were wont to meet with more unmerited abuse and foul language than any return in the shape of attention, gratitude or help. This she felt the more as she was a woman with ideas of refinement that were unusual in the neighborhood of Frogsthorpe and took to heart the complaints of her great loutish brothers that "they hadn't got noo mother." Bob's desire to assist her in any way surprised her.

"Narthen to algerfy," said Bob sheepishly. "Can't I dew narthen moar?"

Sally bustled about and deftly tidied up the kitchen. Out of the corner of her eyes she watched Bob hanging around uncomfortably with an evident wish to ask something and a reluctance to make a start.

"Shall I sluch the bricks down for ye?" inquired Bob.

"Come an do," said Sally. "Tell us what 'tis. Surely to goodness ye ain't afeard."

"Will ye prarmus not to put the grin on tew me?" Bob asked.

"Why, what should I want to do that for?" said Sally, who was getting inquisitive and knew the only way to extract information from her brother was to evince no curiosity. "But just as ye like. I can't keep muddlin about here all the mornin."

"I want ye to tell me what to say," Bob gasped out.

"Say? Say what? Whatever are ye talkin about? I don't know the meanin on't."

"Well! There's a gal!" Bob began nervously.

"Ah! There's plenty o' them," said Sally, unconcernedly.

"I want ye to tell me what to sany in a letter," burst out Bob. "Lor', Sally, she's a gre't wench; She's bigger'n yew. Har hair's that black! 'Tain't like yarn." (Sally was fair.) "She's big as me. An har eyes! Lor', har eyes fare to goo right trew ye they be se shiny an se black."

"A love letter?" said Sally. "No, Bob, I don't know nothin about love. I ain't goin to mix up along o' no love."

"Noo, noo!" expostulated Bob. "'Tain't come to that yit. But I see har brother t'other daay, an he axed me to goo oover an see har, an I axed him if I should write an tell har I wuz a-comin, an he said as he'd find out."

"D'ye want to walk out with her, then?" said Sally.

"I doan't knoo azackly as yit," Bob answered. "D'yo think she'd maake a good wife?"

"How can I tell?" asked Sally, with some show of reason. "Do I know her?"

"Noo," said Bob. "But she bain't like yew. She's a strappin wench, an my missus 'ull hev to wark to help to 'arn the grub."

"Do she wear a fall an gloves?" asked Sally slyly, reminiscent of fraternal remonstrances at her own occasional lapses into gentility.

"That she doan't" said Bob. "She shan't wear noo fall nor noo gloves."

"Ye'll have to treat her different to what you do me," said Sally, "or she won't put up wi't."

"I'll trate her prarper," Bob promised. "She shall hev all the grub she can get down har, but she shan't hev noo bare nor stout. They doan't dew ye a might o' good."

Bob was an adolescent valetudinarian in his way and was just then strong on total abstinence.

"I wouldn't write no letter," said Sally. "That's dangerous. She might hev ye up for breach o' promise."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob, who in all ceremonial matters was guided by his sister.

"That 'ould be best—to see her," said Sally. "How offen hev ye seed her?"

"I doan't knoo much on har, an tha'ss a fack," admitted Bob. "She's in sarvice out at Chetbridge, an har brother axed me if I'd like to goo oover."

"Well, that appears funny to me," mused Sally, keeping her countenance, but chuckling inwardly. "What d'ye want to write for?"

"I'm a-gooin to dew the thing prarper," Bob explained. "Not saam's as yew an yar chap what never came to narthen. I want to hev a prarper onnerstandin afoor I gits engaged, an I hain't got noo mother, wuss luck, an thote as yew'd help me."

"Ye get your onnerstandin talkin," advised Sally. "That fare strange to me she should set her brother on to ye like that."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob nervously. "Hev ye ever klssed her?" asked Sally slyly.

"Blaame it, noo!" Bob roared. "But I should wholly like tew," he added softly.

"Take her out an kiss her, then, an be done wi't," said Sally, more experienced in wooing. "But do ye mind ye bain't sucked in."

"What d'ye mane?" asked Bob.

"They say as fish hawkers cry stinkin fish the loudest," answered Sally sententiously, "an har brother wholly holler tew."

"D'ye think soo?" muttered Bob, alarmed at unconsidered possibilities. "But har eyes mank ye jump, they be se bright. She's the prattiest gal ye ever see. I'll mank ye a bet on't," he added by way of self consolation.

"I spoor," he said after a pause—"I spoor yew 'uldn't write for me an ax har if she'd walk out wi' me. I bain't got noo mother to dew it, wuss luck."

It may be incidentally remarked that Bob was 28 years of age and, with his brothers, was always lamenting the want of a mother. That lady during her life left the charge of her young children altogether to Sally and neglected them and her home equally.

"Yew may take your oath o' that," answered Sally firmly in reply to Bob's hint. "If ye got sucked in, ye'd lay it all on me. Ye must hoe your own land. Ye'd better tell her brother ye'll meet her o' Sunday."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob and subsequently acted on her advice.

* * * * * * *

When Bob had finished the milking on Sunday morning and arranged for an evening substitute, he grew into a fever of unrest. "Sally," he called, "wheer's my clane shut? Wheer's my collar? Will ye black my bewts for me? I'll gi'e ye tuppence. Come an tie my tie. Shall a weer a flower? D'ye think she'll like to goo to chapel? How dew I look in my new clothes?"

At last Sally got him off and turned her attention to the midday meal.

She sat up for his return at night. He came in about 10 and found his sister alone. The others had gone to bed. His face wore an expression of mingled indignation and shame.

"Well, how did ye get on?" asked Sally. "How ye had your tea?"

"I doan't want noo tea," said Bob. "Le's goo to bed."

"Good night, then," said Sally, knowing there was more to come, but making a pretense of turning out the lamp.

"Blaame it!" struck in Bob hoarsely. "She an har brother met me at Chetbridge just as the Swan was oopenin. She said she wuz dry, soo I axed her in to hev some'at. T'ree glasses o' stout fer har an t'ree glasses o' sale fer har brother I paaid foor, tha'ss ninepence, an a glass o' mild bare fer me is tuppence, an neither o' them offered to puay a farden. Then arterwards Tom left us, an we walked to St. Mary's-on-the-Fern, an she said as we wus travelers an walkin made har wheolly dry. Soo we went into the King's Head, an she had t'ree moor glasses o' stout an a half o' mild fer me. Tha'ss fivepence ha'p'ny, an teupence is one and t'reppence ha'p'ny. She never paaid fer narthen."

"Why, Bob, bor, you must ha' been a fool," said Sally, chuckling inwardly, for Bob is notoriously parsimonious.

"D'ye thing soo?" he said uneasily, "Arter that," he continued, "we set under the hedge for a bit, an she axed me to kiss har. Soo I did, but she stunk o' bare soo I didn't think much on't. Then she kep' a-scrowgin up ag'in me till she went asleeap. When she woke up, we walked to Turlham, an I axed her if she'd like too goo to chapel. But she said that wuz past 6, an she wus dry. Soo we went into the Queen's Head, an she had t'ree moor glasses o' stout an a half o' mild fer me. Tha'ss fivepence ha'p'ny an one an t'reppence ha'p'ny is one an nine. Gooin hooam to Chetbridge that wuz gettin dark, but she wanted to set under the hedge ag'in. Howsomedever, I said the ground was damp, an she said as I wuz a sorft fewl, an we'd best git on to the Swan afore they shut. But I'd had enow on't an come hooam. Tha's just like yew be, mixin me up along of a wench what cost me one an ninepence an would ha' done moor if I'd ha' let her. Now's the time when I feeal I hain't got noe mother. I shan't gi'e yew yar ahillin this weeak out o' my money. I must look arter myself same as yew dew, livin hare, kep' like a queean a-dewin narthen. Nice dewin's I call it!"

And Bob went up to bed grumbling and cursing, while his sister laughed silently down stairs.

Bob is still a bachelor, but he has another girl in his eye and wants Sally to test her quality before he commits himself to another one and ninepenny Sunday.—Black and White.

Respectfully Referred.

As The Green Bag has it, Chief Justice Marshall used to narrate with great glee the following correspondence on a point of honor between Governor Giles of Virginia and Patrick Henry. The governor wrote:

Sir—I understand that you have called me a bobtail politician. I wish to know if it be true, and, if true, your meaning. W. B. GILES.

Patrick Henry's reply came promptly:

Sir—I do not recollect calling you a bobtail politician at any time, but think it probable that I have. I can't say what I did mean, but if you will tell me what you think I meant I will say whether you are correct or not. Very respectfully, PATRICK HENRY.

This was leaving it to Giles with a vengeance; but, as there was no further correspondence, the governor of Virginia must have had satisfaction somewhere between the lines of Patrick Henry's brilliantly equivocal reply.

Way to Moral Strength.

We can learn to live nobly only by acting nobly on every occasion. If you shirk the first trial of your manhood, you will go so much weaker to the second, and if the next occasion and the next find you unprepared you will unquestionably sink into baseness. A swimmer becomes strong to stem the tide only by frequently breasting the high waves.—Success.

It was Mr. Ehret's turn yesterday to distinguish himself and he did it with a loud and resounding boom. He did not do much in the way of hitting, but he fielded his position perfectly and held the Old Soldiers down to seven hits. Nattress led in the hitting for Fort Wayne and Hardesty led in the bobbles, making two in center field. The score shows plenty of errors for both clubs, but it does not show the fact that the errors were costly on both sides and were responsible for two of Dayton's runs. The same teams play another game today and then Fort Wayne goes to Columbus for two games before coming home. Fort Wayne is still in fourth place by a single, stingey little point, but if "Doggie" wins today he will land his team uncomfortably close to second place. It is a pretty race all round, although Matthews can scarcely be considered much of a factor after that team gets away from Marion. Following is yesterday's score:

BASE BALL NOTES.

Tom Delehanty has been signed by Columbus to play second base and Grant will be moved to short field. Delehanty was released by Wheeling.

Marion has a new pitcher named Granninger, an amateur, who has pitched twenty-four games this season, winning all of them.

W. Kelsey Schoepf, the Cincinnati street car magnate, has offered to buy the Cincinnati team, but it is not thought that John T. Brush will be willing to sell. The Cincinnati fans would be delighted to see the team pass under the control of home capital.

Jack Powell, the big St. Louis pitcher, has been fined $50 for chasing Louie Heilbroner off the lot and threatening him with calamity if he caught him. Powell has had a dose of the sulks lately and was fined another $50 for failure to show up on the day he was scheduled to pitch.

"Kid" Luther, the amateur who made such a good showing in the box for Grand Rapids a few weeks ago, has developed a yellow streak, and will probably be released. Luther did not report for duty at a recent game and Wilmot is now looking for another twirler to take his place.

Fort Wayne opens a series of three games at home with Grand Rapids, commencing Friday, and then Dayton comes for a series. Columbus follows with three games, and then the locals try conclusions with Matthews, after which Wheeling comes. Fort Wayne closes the season at Columbus September 20, 21 and 22.

Manager Catterson, of the Matthews team, says he is losing money right along, but doesn't care, because he is getting lots of advertising and having a good time. His team puts up at the best hotels, rides to and from the grounds in carriages, and dress like prosperous commercial travelers. When off duty they make a business of booming Matthews.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Wheat was quiet today. September opened ½c to ⅝c lower at 70⅜c to 70½c in sympathy with corn and because the Liverpool advance was disappointing when compared to the bulge here yesterday. After touching 70⅜c September declined to 70¼c, but immediately rallied to 70⅝@70⅝c. Local receipts were 543 cars, 161 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported a total of 137 cars against 168 last week and 210 a year ago.

September later broke to 69⅞c, but rallied to 70⅜c on damage claims from the northwest. Lack of export support and the corn weakness caused further weakness, however, and the market declined to 70c and closed weak, ½@⅝c lower, at 70@70⅛c.

Trade in corn also was quiet. The weather was reported favorable over most of the belt. September opened ⅛c to ¼c down at 57⅛c to 57⅛c and eased to 57c. Receipts were 253 cars.

The close was weak, 1c down, at 56⅜c.

Oats ruled ¼c easier on liberal receipts and in sympathy with corn. September opened unchanged at 35c and sold off to 34¾c. Receipts were 173 cars.

Provisions were dull and easier because of lower prices in hogs. September pork opened 2½c to 5c lower at $14.12½@14.15; September lard and September ribs opened 5c depressed, the former at $8.70 and the latter at $7.87½.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 6.—Prices of Americans at London were scanned with interest this morning owing to the prolonged holiday in that center and the developments on the strike situation since business was suspended there. Trading was fairly active but quite irregular, although the variations either way did not exceed fractions.

The more prominent railways were higher on continental buying, while the United States Steel issues were ¼@½ lower respectively for the common and preferred. The local market opened with quotations slightly mixed, but showing improvements in the railroad stocks, which were weakest yesterday, especially St. Paul, which figured for a rise of a point. Atchison, Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western gained ½ in the first few minutes. There was less doing in the Steel stocks and they moved independently of each other. The common sold up ¼ to 40¾ on the purchase of 6,000 shares, while the preferred reacted ½. Some of the less active stocks made good gains, the rise reaching 1 to 1¼ in Cotton Oil, Consolidated Gas and Chicago Great Western. The market generally halted pending a definite tendency to the United States Steel stocks, and the preferred stock was spupported and about cancelled its early loss. The common weakened and touched 39⅞. Its dip soon affected the preferred and it went back to the lowest—89¼. Other stocks then began to sag. Sugar losing 1⅞, Tennessee Coal 1½ and St. Paul a point.

Some of the leading railroads reacted to a parity or a shade below yesterday's close. Towards 11 o'clock a large demand developed for St. Paul, Atchison, Reading, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific and they rallied ¾ to 1¾ above last night. Sugar reacted 1½, but Missouri Pacific lost as much. Large amounts of the United States Steel stocks were taken on a rising scale, the common getting up 3@3½ above last night and the preferred reaching a parity.

The rise in prices halted for a time shortly after the first hour on realizing, but speculation became intensely dull and as there was no material setback to the United States Steel issues the bull traders became more confident. Sugar, which had previously sold a point below last night, rallied to 2½ above, and Pennsylvania rose 1½. United States Steel common was dealt in only moderately, but improved to 40¾. The preferred sold at 89¾.

The more favorable crop news started a covering movement in the grain-carrying roads and as offerings were scant prices rose rapidly.

Atchison and St. Paul led the movement and rose 2⅜ and 2⅝ respectively. Improvements of a point were pretty general elsewhere and Sugar exceptionally gained 3. But little change occurred in the United States Steels stocks. They fluctuated only ⅛ or so and did not rise above the forenoon highest.

Sugar, St. Paul, Atchison and Union Pacific ra noff 1@1½ before 2 o'clock and the list eased sympathetically. General Electric broke 4½.

There was another upturn in prices in the final hour, but the improvements did not carry the market to the top prices outside of United States Steel, which brought 40.

A subsequent bear drive against St. Paul, Sugar, Atchison, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific forced them from 1 to 2¾ below the best and brought a weakness on all other points. United States Steel common fell to 40, but the preferred was better sustained and held at 89⅞. St. Lawrence and Adirondack rose 3½ per cent. on the declaration of the first semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent. The market closed weak.

DOUBT

LACK OF KNOWLEDGE.

Women who are yet to experience the trial of motherhood should post themselves and reason with modern intelligence. Theories based upon the conditions that surrounded your grandmothers or of the lower animal kingdom, should not be advanced—is pure ignorance. Fashion and civilization has changed your mode of living, dress and thought. The modern mother need not suffer, yet she surely will if nature is left alone to mould the fetus and give successful issue of the living child. Mother's Friend is a softening and relaxing liniment, for external use shortly after a woman finds herself pregnant, or as soon as fullness and discomfort with morning sickness is evident. It relieves the excruciating pain occasioned by the strain on the tendions of the abdominal muscles. A bottle costs $1.00, and is sold by all druggists.

AN OLD RAILROADER DEAD

GEORGE E. CAINE STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

TO BE BURIED AT LAS VEGAS

W. R. BELL'S REMAINS WILL NOT BE BROUGHT HERE.

Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, having headquarters in Cleveland, believe there is little probability of railway employes becoming involved in the steel strike. Both organizations mentioned have provisions in their constitutions that prevent sympathetic strikes and neither organization is affiliated with any other organization in such a way as to make it possible for either to become involved in the strikes of other organizations in which railroad men are not directly implicated.

LABOR SCARCE EVERYWHERE.

The scarcity of labor which has greatly delayed several enterprises in this section of the country is not confined to this state. It is even more marked in some other states, particularly in the west, where the Southern Pacific last Saturday placed an order with the Kansas State Employment Bureau for 2,000 men to work at laying tracks, repairing roadbeds and building extensions in California. The Chicago and Western Indiana, during the next few months, will also want several thousand men in the elevation of the tracks between Twenty-second and Fifty-second streets in Chicago.

G. E. CAINE DEAD.

George E. Caine, a gentleman well known in Wabash railway circles, died at his home in St. Louis Sunday afternoon from apoplexy, after an illness of two days. He was stricken with the disease while attending to some business last Friday. Mr. Caine was born at Newburg, O., in 1839, and as soon as he reached manhood began his career in railroading, taking a minor position and working his way up. He was connected with the Wabash railroad in various capacities for thirty-two years, his last connection with the company being that of general roadmaster. In his early connection with the Wabash company he lived at Peru, Ind., and on being promoted to his last position he removed to Decatur, Ill. Mr. Caine was a Mason, being a member of the Peru lodge, having maintained a membership there ever since he went to St. Louis, twelve years ago, when he became superintendnt of construction of the Merchants' bridge. This position he held four years and then engaged in railway building. He was one of the founders of the Roadmasters' association.

NO CHANGE IN STRIKE.

The situation at the Indiana Road Machine works, where the machinists have been on a strike for the past two weeks, has not changed materially since the first day of the strike. Each side to the controversy seems to be firm and present appearances do not indicate a speedy settlement of the affair. The difficulty is not a matter of wages, The Sentinel is informed, but grew out of a disagreement regarding the number of apprentices employed at the works. The strike is conducted upon very orderly and quiet lines and good feeling between employer and employe seems to prevail.

SHOP INSPECTOR HERE.

H. A. Richards, of Muncie, Ind., deputy shop inspector for the Second district of Indiana, arrived in the city last night and this morning started upon a tour of the industrial establishments of the city. He is a man of pleasant address and seems to know how to perform his duties without giving offense to the proprietors of the factories.

BURIED AT LAS VEGAS.

Unable to locate the relatives of William Bell, whose death was mentioned by The Sentinel yesterday, the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has desided to not have the remains brought here for interment. Secretary Bert Sunderland this morning telegraphed the Brotherhood men at Las Vegas, N. M., to give the body respectful burial at that place. The brother of the deceased was residing in Portland, Ore., when last heard from, but Mr. Sunderland has been unable to reach him by a telegram. Mr. Bell held a life policy in the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, payable to his brother.

TRAVELED LIKE KINGS.

The Pennsylvania delegates to the Epworth League convention at San Francisco, who passed through this city last night, traveled in trains equal to the Pennsylvania limited, than which there is no better in service. There were three trains, each consisting of five Pullman sleepers, an observation car and a baggage car, and they carried 265 pasengers.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED.

W. T. Wareup is suffering from a dislocated shoulder, the result of an accident at the Pittsburg freight house last night. He is employed as a caller at that establishment, and in passing from one car to another the iron bridge slipped and let him down to the ground unexpectedly. He will be off duty a week or two.

HARRIS SUCCEEDS ROCKWELL.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 6.—It was announced here today that J. M. Harris, now district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines at Columbus, has been appointed assistant general passenger agent at Cincinnati, to succeed George E. Rockwell, who has resigned, to take effect September 1.

R. S. Collins, stationary fireman, has resigned his position at the electric power house at the Pittsburg shops. His successor has not been named.

R. J. Fisher, traveling car wheel salesman for the Bass Foundry and Machine company, has returned to the city after a two day's outing at Clear Lake, Ind.

C. W. Monahan and J. A. Deahl, Nickel Plate brakemen, who had been attending to private affairs a few days, resumed their duties on the road yesterday.

If present improvement continues Frank Bailey will resume his duties in the Pittsburg yards in a week or two. He was injured between two cars two weeks ago.

Pittsburg Conductor C. F. Thomas, who has been off duty a few days on account of private business, reported for work this morning.

Engineer and Mrs. W. K. Wilder have gone to Buffalo to attend the Pan-American exposition. Mr. Wilder is a Pittsburg employe.

Engineer Joseph Stuart, who was injured at the race track last Saturday, has recovered and this morning resumed his duties on the Pittsburg road.

Nickel Plate train No. 3 will this evening bring a number of Lutheran ministers here to attend the convention. The ministers are traveling in a special coach.

William Scherer, jr., a clerk in Agent E. H. Kirkland's office, at the Pittsburg freight house, is in Mackinaw and neighboring cities upon his annual vacation.

Nickel Plate Brakeman Charles Gray has been off duty two or three days on account of the sickness of his wife. Brakeman L. Schoonover, of the same road, is sick.

The Pennsylvania company is said to be looking about for additional coal fields on the line of the Indianapolis and Vincennes, which, if purchased, will be reached by building short branches.

Frank Haffelfinger, who was formerly employed as a slate roofer by Welch & Sons, has taken a position as a helper in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop. He commenced work there this morning.

F. M. Steele, a truckman at the Pennsylvania freight house, found a gold watch a few days ago. The timepiece belonged to Fireman F. C. Welsh and it was promptly turned over to that gentleman.

The largest steam hammer in the Bass blacksmith shop is closed for repairs and it is likely that it will not be in operation for two or three days. The men have been temporarily assigned to other duties.

Indianapolis Journal: "J. W. Clabaugh, who has been appointed car tracer of the Pennsylvania lines west, is one of the oldest employes on the lines. He started as an operator in Hanna, Ind., August 1, 1859."

W. W. Hill, weighmaster at the Nickel Plate yards, went to Bellevue today to attend to some private business and later visit friends in that city and at Monroville. He has taken a ten days' vacation for this purpose.

It is stated that the test by the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton in burning gas coke for fuel on passenger locomotives was satisfactory. The expense of changing locomotives to use coke for fuel, it is stated, will be small.

Martin Kramer, foreman of the shipping department at the Pittsburg shops, will take a ten days' vacation. Friday he will accompany his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Cassidy, who has been visiting here, to her home at Knoxville, Tenn.

It is probable that the Ohio and Big Sandy division of the Chesapeake and Ohio will be extended from White House, Ky., to Prestonburg. This would open to the markets some of the finest coal and mineral lands in eastern Kentucky.

Conductor C. B. Spangler, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a lay-off to do some repair work upon his house. Before entering the railway business Mr. Spangler was a journeyman carpenter and his knowledge of that trade comes quite handy still.

William Jahns, who received a cut in the palm of his hand a few days ago, is now off duty on account of the accident. Instead of healing, the wound has become greatly inflamed and is quite sore. Mr. Jahns is employed in the Pittsburg car shops.

The appropriaion for division officials' building at Wabash has been allowed by the stockholders of the Big Four and the building will be put up the coming fall. It will cost about $17,000 and will be at the base of the bluff at the site of the present building.

There is a probability that a motorcycle race may be added to the list of events for the Pennsylvania Employes' Athletic association's field day next Saturday. Such a race would prove interesting and no doubt aid in drawing a crowd to the grounds. The matter will be decided today.

The Wabash has been placed at great disadvantage at Kansas City for lack of terminal facilities for its rapidly increasing business. To meet this need the company last week purchased just across the river 200 acres of land, on which it can secure ample room to make needed improvements.

A. G. Porter lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, added two names to the membership roll at the meeting last evening, the new members being W. J. Woodin and A. Siegrist. A number of applications for membership were also acted upon and the applicants will be initiated within the next month or two.

Nick Algiers has resumed his duties at the electric works. He was taking a vacation.

H. C. Hartman, a checkman at the Pittsburg freight house, is taking a vacation, which will be devoted in part to fishing.

Ernest Heuer, assistant boiler foreman of the Wabash, was called to the Buffalo division of the road last night to look after some locomotive repair work.

William Orth and Rudolph Bengs have taken positions at the electric works, the former with Foreman Bauer and the latter with Foreman C. F. Knothe.

The movement of new grain from the west and southweest has created a big demand for grain cars and all railways are hurrying empties westward to meet that demnd.

George Reithmiller, delivery clerk at the Pittsburg freight office, reported for duty this morning after an absence of three of four days on account of private business.

Passenger Engineer W. D. Miller, of the Nickel Plate, has secured a week's leave of absence and with his wife has gone to Buffalo to attend the Pan-American exposition.

Indianapolis Journal: The Baltimore and Ohio is in a fair way to get a line into Indianapolis. Heretofore it has operated over the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton or the Big Four. Now that the Pennsylvania has obtained control over the Baltimore and Ohio, the Pittsburg Post says an arrangement will be made to handle through Baltimore and Ohio passengers and freight trains from Columbus to Indianapolis over the Panhandle main line.

Engine 659, a Baldwin compound, and engine 654, a Baldwin simple, went into the Wabash shops for general repairs this morning. Both are passenger engines of the largest pattern.

ORDER FOR THE BATTLE ISSUED

President Shaffer's Mandate to the Army of the Amalgamated Association Said to Have Gone Forth---Notice to Combine.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—The Leader says President Shaffer announced this afternoon that the general order calling out all the Amalgamated men in all of the steel combine mills to strike would go out this afternoon. He declined to give out a copy of the order in advance of its receipt by the lodges. He said it would go to them first before it would be made public.

A New Castle, Pa., special says:

"The employes of the National Steel company in this city have been ordered out by President Shaffer. The mill will close down at midnight tonight. Vice President Chappelle will address a meeting of the men tomorrow morning."

NOTICE TO THE COMBINE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—President Shaffer called a meeting of the national officers for a secret session at 2 o'clock this afternoon to submit the proclamation and notice to the manufacturers of the intended general strike.

The circular prepared by President Shaffer notified the manufacturers that he proposed to order out the men in the plants of the United States Steel corporation now operating with men belonging to the Amalgamated association if they do not make overtures for peace.

The circular was approved by the board and will be printed and sent out this evening.

STRIKE ORDER NOT ISSUED.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—The general strike order was not issued by President Shaffer this morning and it may be delayed beyond the time limit made by him yesterday. He says there are sufficient reasons for the delay, but the only apparent cause is said to be the hope entertained that the officers of the big steel corporation may soon realize the serious results that will follow a general closing of the union plants and make overtures for peace.

The Amalgamated association, it is explained, does not want to take hasty action and proposes to rest quietly for awhile. From the meager reports from the officials of the steel combines, they are not worrying over the delay, and seem to be confident as ever that they will win.

ENCOURAGED BY DELAY.

They are encouraged over the delay in issuing the strike order and believe it is due to the fact that the officers of the workers' organization are not certain of their ability to bring out the union men desired. One thing appears certain and that is that President Shaffer will not call out the men before the latter part of the week. President Shaffer was at his office at 9 o'clock this morning and at once went to work. It is said that he is preparing the notices to the different companies, which will state that he intends to call the men out.

These notices will probably be got out today. No attempt has been made to start any of the mills in this

LAST ACT IN LAND LOTTERY BEGINS

El Reno, O. T., Aug. 6.—In the opening of Indian lands on the Kiowa-Comanche reservations the last act began today when the winners in last week's lottery were permitted to file on their claims. Filing at the rate of 250 per day at El Reno and Fort Sill will continue daily until the entire 13,000 claims have been disposed of. It is estimated that two or three thousand claims drawn at the lottery never will be filed on. There undoubtedly will be a lively scramble for them by the thousands of persons who did not win in the lottery. An auction sale by the federal government of town lots at Anadarko, Hobart and Lawton began today. At each place thousands of persons have waited for days for the opportunity to purchase lots and begin business.

YACHTS IN COLLISION.

New York, Aug. 6.—J. Pierpont Morgan's steam yacht Corsair, Howard C. Smith's Saghaya and Frank Tilford's Norman, all anchored at the New York Yacht club rendezvous, off the foot of East Twenty-sixth street, were in collision today. The Saghaya was badly damaged. The Corsair hit her twice, tearing away her rigging and knocking over her foremast and smashing a lot of deck top hamper. Then she swung around and bumped the Norman, dragging away some guys. The Corsair and the Norman were not damaged much. A strong tide caused the Corsair to drag her anchors and to run into the other yachts.

THIEVES MAKE PRINCELY HAUL

Smelting Works at Vallejo, Cal., Robbed of Gold Bullion Worth $340,000---Tunneled from the Seashore to Treasure Room.

Vallejo, Cal., Aug. 6.—Gold bricks valued at $340,000 were stolen during the night from the Selby smelting works. The robbers evidently had been working on the job for two or three months. They had dug a tunnel from outside the house, beginning with a shaft about three feet deep. Thence they worked underneath the vault, and striking upwards, bored a hole in the strong-room floor. The hole was shaped like the manhole of a boiler. Parts of the hole was bored two months ago, it is thought, and the last one was completed during the night. Through that hole they took the gold bricks and carried them to a bank near the mouth of the tunnel east of the works, where they were evidently placed in a boat. In their hurry the robbers left two of the bricks on the bank. During the night one of the workmen reported to his fellows that he heard a noise in the strong room and declared it was a ghost. The others ridiculed him for his superstition, but no investigation was made to see what caused the noise.

The entrance to the tunnel was covered with a frame, over which the employes of the smelter passed repeatedly every day, but no one seemed to notice anything out of the way.

Sheriff Veale, of Contra Costa county; his deputies and Chief of Police Sanford, of Vallejo, have been notified and are now at the works. The police of San Francisco and all the bay cities are at work on the case, but so far there is not the slightest clew to the robbers.

The work was that of skilled men and their elaborate plans were carried out without a hitch. They got all the bullion in the vault, leaving behind only the two bricks which were dropped on the shore. Only one day's accumulation of refined gold was kept at the works. Yesterday's run was unusually heavy and the gold was to have been shipped back to San Francisco today.

The tunnel that the robbers excavated was about three feet in diameter and gave them plenty of room in which to work. It is supposed that the dirt from the tunnel was taken out at night and dropped in the bay. First reports stated that the tunnel was two or three hundred feet long, but according to late advices it is only about ten feet in length. The shaft was started close to the wall and was sunk below the foundation. Thence it was only a short distance under the floor of the vault. It is thought the men who committed the robbery took their plunder away in a launch and made off directly for San Francisco. There are plenty of places, however, to which they may have gone—either up the Sacramento river or to the shore of any of the numerous bays.

Following is a list of the property stolen:

Four gold bricks, all numbered and containing as follows: No. 1, 236—1,190 ounces and a fraction; No. 1, 237—3,300 ounces; No. 1, 238—1,233 ounes and a fraction; No. 1, 239—1,087 ounces and a fraction; also 10,000 ounces of gold in various shapes and a little silver. The gold in the bricks is worth $20 an ounce.

The Selby smelter is the largest on the Pacific coast. Ores are sent there from all parts of the western slope for reduction. The works are located near the bay shore, about thirty miles from San Francisco, and through the clever device of tunneling through the loose sand the robbers secured a princely sum, the loss of which was not discovered until after the works resumed operations today.

The robbers took the usual precaution of strewing their tracks with red pepper, presumably to prevent bloodhounds from taking up the trail.

Each bar of bullion was numbered and a description is now in the hands of the detectives. President Ralston stated that the robbers cannot dispose of the plunder without having it remelted and mixed with other metals. He is of the opinion that they will bury the gold or sink it in the bay, awaiting a convenient time for its removal, as there are few smelters on this coast where the gold can be remelted.

President Ralston stated that he had absolutely no clue to the identity of the robbers. At the Selby works the gold is kept in a steel lined strong room. The robbers tunneled until they got directly under the room and then cut through the floor. The tunnel was a skillfully constructed work, which it must have taken may days to complete.

Once in the strong room the thieves had only to help themselves to all in sight. Bullion is sent each day from the Selby San Francisco office to the smelter by a special boat. The boat arrived at the works as usual today with the consignment of bullion and the strong room was opened so that it could be stored. Then it was that the smelter officials discovered their loss.

HIS MIND IN GOOD ORDER.

Indianapolis, Aug. 6.—John Ross, whose case started all the trouble which resulted in the collapse of the so-called insanity commission trust, was before the city court yesterday for assaulting a fellow-workman at the packing plant, but it developed that the victim, while in a drunken condition, had annoyed Ross and other boarders, and finally grew profane while at the dinner table. Ross called him down, and Sullivan resented it by attacking him, whereupon he was knocked down several times. Ross' arrest aroused great interest, as the friends of the insanity trust thought something might come out of it showing Ross was really mentally affected, but the disclosures showed that he acted discreetly and bravely.

TWO BOYS ROB MAIL.

Greencastle, Ind., Aug. 6.—Charges were filed yesterday before United States Commissioner Hoggins against George Moore and Ulysses Snyder for stealing a mail sack from the Monon depot at this place July 12. The pouch contained valuable mail, and in Moore's coat, which he had hidden, it is said, was found $2,000 worth of checks and money orders. The prisoners are mere boys. They had been hiding in a cave, and had drawn revolvers on farmers who remonstrated with them for what they did. Moore attempted to shoot the police who arrested him.

MARRIED THIS AFTERNOON.

A wedding supper was served after the ceremony, the guests being immediate relatives of the young people. Later Mr. and Mrs. Bradtmiller left for Anderson, where they will make their home.

OLD SERVANTS TAKE LAST LOOK AT REMAINS.

SIX WEEKS OF MOURNING

THE PRESIDENT SENDS CONDOLENCES TO KAISER.

Cronberg, Aug. 6.—The body of the dowager empress still lies in the bedchamber overlooking the valley of the Maine. She died in a soft sleep, painlessly, and her features bear the most serene and peaceful expression.

The gardeners and other outdoor dependents were admitted this morning to take a last look at the remains.

Emperor William will arrive here at noon, when orders will be issued for the various funeral arrangements, concerning which nothing definite is yet known.

No strangers have yet been admitted to the castle. Wreaths continue arriving. Among the earliest was one brought by a deputation from the village of Cronberg, headed by the burgomaster. Another wreath was brought by the pastor of the village.

MOURN FOR DEAD EMPRESS.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—A special edition of the Reichzanzeiger published this morning contains an imperial cabinet order giving notice of the death of Empress Frederick and ordering six weeks national mourning, beginning today. The order also directs that all public amusements, including concerts and theatrical performances, be suspended until after the funeral.

According to dispatches from Cronberg the death agony of the dowager empress was brief, lasting hardly a quarter of an hour. When Professor Renvers informed Emperor William that his mother's heart had ceased to beat the chaplain made a brief prayer and his majesty placed white lillies in his mother's hands.

Telegrams are pouring in from all quarters. The heads of all foreign states and the sovereigns of the German states have sent messages of condolence couched in the warmest terms.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

The papers comment on the political side of the dowager empress' character with reserve. The Post considers it easily comprehensible that a woman of her abilities should seek to influence the political views of her husband; but, the paper refrains from criticism since she avoided all political activity after Emperor Frederick's death.

The Cruzietung wholly ignores her politics. The Neuste Nachrichten says she brought from England political views which were suitable in a highly developed, solidly foundationed country like England, but which were out of place in a country like Prussia, struggling for existance.

The Deutsche Tages Zietung says: "It would be unseemly and repugnant to our sentiments to recall the struggles in which she was drawn."

The liberal papers describe the hopes Germany indulged in through her indoctrinating Emperor Frederick with English constitutional views. Many papers refer to her relations with the late Prince Bismarck and his opposition to her "Englanderie."

The flag on the United States embassy was half-masted today.

LIFE OF LATE EMPRESS.

Victoria Adelaide May Louise, eldest daughter of Queen Victoria, was born at Buckingham palace in 1840. For a year she was heiress to the crown of England, and then Alfred Edward was born. The wit of the royal child amazed and rather frightened the kindly mother queen. The prince consort delighted in it, for he believed that when it was matured and softened it would be a powerful factor in her career. She minded not what she said or to whom she said it. She had her first love affair when she was thirteen years old, and it was with the boy whom she married five years later—the crown prince of Prussia. This royal match was quite as much a love affair as that of the queen of England and the prince consort. When she was married her wonderful mind was already making itself felt throughout the country. She knew statesmanship and political economy like a man. She talked ably and wisely with the great men attached to the court of St. James. She was an artist of ability. She was outspoken, independent, fearless in the Anglo-Saxon way. She was her father's closest companion and he superintended all her studies and reading and was her companion from the time she could talk. The crown prince also found that she had a head which thought out for itself and was not governed by the rules that are laid down for court life. She was so strong, moreover, that she was not always tactful, and this antagonized the members of the court at Berlin. It did not make matters any easier at court when the crown prince began to defer to his wife's judgment over and above everybody. "I will ask my wife" was his common saying. After the present emperor married and was completely in control of the government, the Empress Frederick turned the great abilities to the advancement of the German women. The splendid nursing by women on the field in 1866 and 1870 was accomplished by her. She established the splendid modern hospital at Hamburg during the Franco-Prussian war. The greatest result of her intellectual work is that wonderful Victoria house for the care of the sick.

She had four sons and four daughters—Wilhelm, born in 1859; Charlotte, born in 1860; Henry, born in 1862; Sigismund, born in 1864 and died in 1866; Victoria, born in 1866; Waldemar, born in 1868 and died in 1879; Sophia Dorothea, born in 1870; Margaret, born in 1872.

EDWARD GOES TO CRONBERG.

Cowes, Aug. 6.—The time of King Edward's departure for Germany is still undetermined. He goes to London this afternoon. The royal yacht Victoria and Albert awaits his arrival at Fort Victoria to convey his majesty to Flushing. Although the king decided that the Cowes yachting program should proceed, the owners of the vessels entered for the king's cup, which was to have been raced for today, have resolved, out of respect for the dowager empress, not to start.

PRESIDENT'S CONDOLENCES.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President McKinley has sent the following message to Emperor William, of Germany, on the death of his mother, the Dowager Empress Frederick:

"State Department, Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—His Imperial and Royal Majesty Wilhelm II., German Emperor, Berlin: I learn with deep sorrow of the death of your majesty's beloved mother, the Dowager Empress and Queen Frederick. Her noble qualities have endeared her memories to the American people, in whose name and in my own I tender to your majesty heartfelt condolence. (Signed.) "William McKinley."

GAME BIRDS ARE RELEASED

ENGLISH PHEASANTS FOR ALLEN COUNTY.

C. F. Knothe Places Several Pairs Near Everett Lake and Hopes to See Them Multiply.

C. F. Knothe, well known as a bird fancier, has been engaged for some time in raising English pheasants, a beautiful game bird, which he hopes to introduce into Allen county. Two years ago a pair of the birds were sent to Mr. Knothe by the game warden, and he has carefully protected them until their numbers have been considerably multiplied.

Now Mr. Knothe proposes to install the pheasants as a game bird in this section, and in order to make the test he has just released several pairs of the pheasants near Everett Lake, that region being the only section he could find where all the farmers have prohibited hunting. If the birds are undisturbed for a few years they will multiply so rapidly as to become permanent among the local game birds. To aid in their culture the game law is very strict, there being a penalty of $50 for each bird killed until the fall of 1905.

Mr. Houserman is the city attorney.

LEACH'S LIABILITIES GROWING

How Avilla's Banker Impressed People That He Had Plenty of Money and Would Do the Town Good, Which He Did.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Avilla, Ind., Aug. 6.—There is but little diminution of public temper over the collapse of the Bank of Avilla, and the failure of the institution continues to be pretty nearly the sole topic of conversation in the town. Creditors of the wrecked bank have placed the matter in the hands of attorneys, Marshall & McNagny, of Columbia City, appearing for the larger number of the losers; Colerick & Thomas and P. A. Randall, of Fort Wayne, for those who have petitioned to have the missing banker declared a bankrupt, while Leach's interests are being looked after by Attorney R. P. Barr, of Kendallville.

Until an expert accountant has made an examination of the books of the concern nobody is in a position to say how much will be realized by the luckless depositors, but nobody here believes the wrecked institution can pay more than a nominal per cent. The liabilities, at first announced to be about $17,000, appear to be increasing daily, and it seems now probable that they will be at least $27,000. The attorneys for the creditors are making an effort to secure an examination of the bank's books by an expert accountant in order that a more accurate knowledge of the situation may be obtained. Nobody can be found with confidence enough to believe there is any funds left in the bank's vaults.

HE WON CONFIDENCE.

The career of H. W. Leach in Avilla forms an interesting, albeit somewhat expensive subject of contemplation to the people of this town. He came to Avilla in the fall of 1899, presumably from Chicago, and spent several days in the place, looking over the business opening and talking to a number of the more prominent people. He was a young man, not yet thirty years of age, made a pleasing appearance and was of an engaging personality. Of medium height, faultlessly dressed and apparently well educated, he was soon accepted at par and welcomed as a notable addition to society and business circles of the town.

It must be said that Leach made no boastful announcement in words of the great things he proposed to do; it was his manner rather than any statement of his that convinced the people that he had unlimited wealth at his command, and the announcement that he had determined to establish a bank in the place was received with genuine pleasure. All sorts of stories of untold thousands possessed by the new citizen soon gained currency, though it is not known that the stories came from the lips of the banker. They traveled as stories will, and in public report the banker's wealth grew daily more amazing.

Some timorous citizens ventured a doubt as to there being sufficient field in the town for a bank, but Mr. Leach had no doubts upon the subject. He leased a business room on Main street and placed a force of workmen at remodeling it and trans-

ADMIRAL HOWISON ON SCHLEY COURT

Washington, Aug. 6.—Rear Admiral Henry L. Howison has been selected to fill the vacancy on the Schley court of inquiry caused by the inability of Rear Admiral Kimberly to serve. Admiral Howison's name is one of the several officers whom Admiral Schley notified the department was satisfactory to him. The appointment is also satisfactory to Captain Parker, Admiral Schley's assistant counsel.

Rear Admiral Howison is one of the youngest retired officers of his grade, having been retired October 10, 1899, when he reached the age of 62. During the early part of the war he served principally on blockade duty, but later participated in the battle of Mobile Bay as commander of the United States steamer Bienville. It is rather an interesting coincident that he was in command of the cruiser Vandalia at Samoa, which later went down in the hurricane in Apia harbor while flying the flag of Rear Admiral Kimberly, who had succeeded him as senior officer on the station, and whom he now succeeds on this court. He was in command of the Boston yard during the Spanish war and later was commander of the South Atlantic station. He made the famous long distance cruise around Africa in the Chicago, as the last act of his active career, arriving in New York the day before Admiral Dewey arrived on the Olympia. It will be remembered that although he outranked Admiral Sampson, who was in command of the receiving fleet at that time, he refrained from assuming command, but courteously allowed Admiral Sampson to do the honors upon that celebrated occasion.

A preliminary list of the witnesses who will be called to appear before the court has been prepared at the navy department. Some of those officers are on foreign stations and will be obliged to leave for home almost immediately in order to arrive in time.

Admiral Schley has also submitted a list of witnesses, some of whom are on foreign stations, and these also will be ordered home.

Capt. James Parker, Admiral Schley's assistant counsel, appeared at the navy department today to resume his investigation of the official records in connection with the disputed points in the Santiago campaign. He was given a desk in the secretary's office, as he was last week, and such records as he called for were placed at his disposal by the bureau of navigation.

NUMBER OF DEAD IS UNKNOWN

Seven Bodies Taken From Ruins Wrought by the Explosion in Philadelphia and Many More Are Believed to Be Dead.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 6.—Seven persons, all colored, are known to be dead as a result of the terrible gasoline explosion last night which tore to atoms six buildings on Locust street between Tenth and Eleventh streets and wrecked over a score of others.

As to the number that yet remain in the ruins of the wrecked buildings all is mere speculation.

But one of the seven that perished has been identified. This is Annie Harris, a child 4 years old, who lived at 1013 Locust street, on the opposite side of the street from the building in which the explosion occurred.

The unidentified dead are: A child about 2 years of age; two women and a man at the Pennsylvania hospital, and a man at the Jefferson hospital.

It was 7 o'clock this morning before firemen, after working hard all night, had the smouldering ruins sufficiently cooled off to enable them to begin a search for the bodies which are supposed to be beneath the wrecked buildings.

THE BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Their attention was first directed to 1018 Locust street, the building occupied by Albert D. Mountain, grocer. In this building at the time of the explosion there were Robert and Dalton Mountain and Lizzie Mountain, children of the proprietor of the store. None of them has been accounted for. No. 1016 Locust street was occupied by Patrick Quigley as a grocery. Quigley, his wife, three children and an uncle were in the building when the explosion occurred. The only ones in this family thus far accounted for is Quigley and his uncle. At 1014 Locust street George McClenny also conducted a small grocery. It is here that the explosion is thought to have occurred. The building was occupied by McClenny, his wife, a clerk and a servant. At the time of the disaster Mrs. McClenny was visiting in West Philadelphia and the others are thought to have been in the building.

Where the greatest number probably perished is at 1012 Locust street. Here William Jones, colored, conducted a boarding house. He had a score of boarders, but the number in the building at the time cannot be learned positively. The police officials say, however, that it is probable that half a dozen bodies

A REPUTATION.

How it Was Made and Retained in Fort Wayne.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Fort Wayne residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mrs. Sarah Schrage, of 57 Huffman street, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time and was unable to get relief. My back ached very badly and when I tried to stoop I was taken with a stitch across the small of my back which was very painful. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store and they soon drove away every symptom of kidney disorder. I had some trouble in taking them at first, as it is very hard for me to swallow a pill, but I soon found that I could break them up and take them just as well, as there is no bad taste to them."

JACK CASE AGAIN IN COURT

AFTER LONG VACATION HE IS ASKED TO PLEAD.

Had a Jag and a Troublesome Manner—Young Man Held for Forgery—News of the Police.

Judge Louttit being out of the city, J. R. Bittenger again sat as special judge at police court this morning. Jack Case, the notorious, who has been on his good behavior for a number of months, was the first individual to face the throne. Jack was charged with drunkenness, and although other actions of his were not referred to in the affidavit, it was developed on hearing the evidence that he had been very abusive to his brother's wife, who is in a delicate condition. He terrorized the household and was a big man until the wagon arrived. He pleaded guilty to being drunk, but took occasion to remind the court that he had been so good for a long time that his limbs ached. The judge remarked that in consideration of his model conduct for a short period he would make the fine only $5 and costs, which elected Jack to sixteen days in the bastile.

A YOUTHFUL FORGER.

Charles Cunningham, a young man only 17, yet old enough to have an unsavory reputation in police circles, was arrested last evening by Superintendent Gorseline and Detective Coling for forgery. The circumstances were about as follows: Yesterday afternoon Cunningham went to the Jacobs shoe store and offered to discount a due bill on T. J. Peter for $30 for $28.50. Occasionally Mr. Peter issues time bills to employes which they have cashed between pay days at various stores down town. The due bills or time orders are invariably redeemed by Mr. Peter on regular pay days. The order presented to Mr. Lehman at the shoe store read as follows:

"Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 5, 1901.—Due Chas. Cunningham the sum of thirty ($30) dollars.

"T. J. Peter.
"Mc."

Mr. Lehman was suspicious of the order when it was presented, but told the young man that he did not have the money right then but if he would come in in an hour or so he would be pleased to cash it for him at the discount offered. The young man said he would be back and Mr. Lehman telephoned Superintendent Gorsline. Communication was immediately had with Mr. Peter, from whom it was learned that no such a bill as the one presented had been issued. The superintendent and Detective Coling went to the store and kept in the background awaiting the arrival of Cunningham, who promptly put in an appearance and was pleasantly greeted by Mr. Lehman, who handed him out $28.50 for his due bill. Then the officers took a hand and in few minutes Cunningham was landed back of the bars. This morning he pleaded guilty to uttering the forged paper, but denied having written it. He said a friend of his wrote the bill and gave it to him to have cashed. This statement is born out by the fact that the chirography of Cunningham's signature on the back of the bill does not correspond with that of the face of the paper. After hearing the evidence Judge Bittenger bound the young man over to the circuit court in the sum of $500, in default of which bond Cunningham was remanded to jail.

POLICE NOTES.

Officer Strodel is on the sick list and did not report for duty last night.

Stationmaster Terry's night blooming cereus made schedule time last night and by 9 o'clock four of the prettiest specimens of the flower were in full bloom. From 8:30 to 11 o'clock the proud floriculturalist's front yard was visited by hundreds of persons who were aware of the blooming of the plant and came to see the unusual exhibition of one of nature's prettiest freaks.

The patrol wagon made a quick run to No. 110 Shawnee avenue last evening to remove William Dunlap to St. Joseph hospital, where a heroic operation was performed upon him. The physicians in charge of the case said that promptness was an essential to saving the man's life, so the police ambulance cut off a few of its best licks.

Fort Wayne is now a full fledged member of the national bureau of identification. Superintendent Gorseline having received his certificate of membership this morning. The application was filed some weeks ago.

JUDGE PRICE DEAD.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Judge William Cecil Price, United States treasurer under President Buchanan, died here today at the home of his son-in-law, William S. Newberry, aged eighty-six years. Judge Price settled in Springfield, Mo., in the early 30's. He became prominent in the ranks of the democratic party, and when Buchanan was elected he was chosen United States treasurer. When Buchanan ordered Major Anderson to reinforce Fort Sumter Judge Price resigned his office in anger. He was with General Price at the battle of Pea Ridge and was captured by the federal forces and confined in the prison at Alton, Ill., until September, 1862, when he was exchanged.

Judge Price has been in ill health for some time owing to his advanced age, and the end was not unexpected. The body will be taken to Madison, Wis., for interment Thursday.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

PETGEN.

George Henry Petgen, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, died at 8 o'clock this morning at the home of his father, Frank Petgen, 95 Baker street, after a protracted illness.

Mr. Petgen was twenty years of age and unmarried. He was an estimable young man and a great favorite among his fellow employes, holding membership in the Fort Wayne lodge, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Funeral services will be announced later.

REHLING.

Hoppe.—Funeral services of Arthur Hoppe will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 199 Force street.

LOUIS PARISOE DEAD.

Word was received by the Misses Emma and Mary Parisoe, of 58 East Jefferson street, this morning, announcing the death of their brother, Louis Parisoe, which occurred Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, in Chillicothe, Ohio. Deceased was 63 years old and resided in Fort Wayne about twenty-five years ago. He was for a long time an engineer on the Pennsylvania. His home was in Danville, Ill., and he leaves a wife and six children. Mr. Parisot was a traveling salesman for Sells Bros., of Philadelphia, and sustained a sunstroke last Tuesday, from the effects of which he succumbed last evening. The interment will take place at Danville.

A SMALL RACE WAR.

Steubenville, Ohio, Aug. 6.—At the National Steel company's furnace at Mingo Junction today several striking Hungarians attempted to take their old positions, which had been filled by Italians. A fight ensued, which ended in the Italians being ejected from the mill. All the Hungarians who went out are now back at work in their former positions and without getting the increases for which they struck.

NONE KILLED IN RIOTS.

London, Aug. 6.—A dispatch received here from Belgrade says there is no truth in the report circulated by a news agency in the United States that sixteen persons were killed and that nineteen were wounded during election disturbances at Prokuplie, Servia. The dispatch adds that the elections passed off without disorder.

MILITIA GUARDS A NEGRO.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 6.—Two companies of militia and the governor's horse guards left here today for Canton, where they will guard Raymond Ross (colored), on trial, charged with having assaulted a white woman. The soldiers will be stationed around the court house until the case is ended.

LEACH'S LIABILITIES GROWING.

forming it to meet the requirements of the banking business. It was the first bank ever established here, and the progress or the work was watched with acute interest. The furniture and fixtures came. They were gorgeous in pattern and must have cost a pretty penny, but this only increased the public confidence in the enterprise.

IN OTHER ENTERPRISES.

The bank opened in January, 1900; funds appeared to be plenty, and within a short time depositors began transferring their banking business from Kendallville to the new concern. Leach brought his wife from Chicago, and the couple made their home at the Dolan hotel. They were people of culture and refinement and were soon central figures in the social life of the place.

From the first Leach announced his purpose to make Avilla his permanent home and within a short time he purchased a handsome tract of ground on North Main street, and a Chicago architect prepared plans for an elaborate home for the banker. Almost at the same time he leased a blacksmith and wagon shop, then unused, installed workmen in it and began the manufacture of carriages. Soon it was stated that he was planning to erect a large factory. This was not done, but instead he leased another business building, secured more workmen and continued the carriage building upon a larger scale under the name of the Avilla Carriage works.

Meantime progress was being made upon the construction of the banker's home in the north part of town. Through weary months it slowly grew to completion, the most elaborate and expensive home for miles around. No modern convenience was omitted and the residence is a literal palace. The furnishings are upon an equally gorgeous scale and it was but a few weeks ago that the banker and his wife moved into the new home. They had hardly settled down to the enjoyment of the comforts of the elegant place when the crash came.

HE BOUGHT BONDS.

Another move which inspired the confidence of the people in the stability of the banking institution was Mr. Leach's purchase of a block of waterworks bonds issued by the town of Avilla soon after he located there. There was spirited bidding for the securities and the new banker paid a handsome premium for them. Subsequently they were disposed of, however, for they are now held by an Indianapolis capitalist.

The depositors in the defunct bank included not only the people of the town, but a large number of well-to-do farmers in the surrounding territory. Practically every business man in Avilla had a deposit account there, though in most cases the amounts were comparatively small, and none of them will be seriously crippled. Something like $1,100 of the town's finances were in the institution and the banker had been accepted as one of the sureties of the town treasurer. The Odd Fellows' lodge is another sufferer. In many instances among the depositors of smaller means the savings of almost a lifetime were represented in the amounts deposited with the concern.

REMARK IS RECALLED.

Since the failure of the concern one citizen recalls a remark made by the banker several months ago that in the light of recent developments takes on a significant aspect. This man, who was employed by one of the railroads here, remarked to the banker that he was tired of railroading and that if he had a little more money he would engage in business here.

"It's easy enough to get money to enter business," said Mr. Leach.

"But when I go into business I want to have sufficient capital of my own to pay cash for goods and not go into debt," rejoined the railroad man.

"Well," said Mr. Leach, "why don't you find a good little town and start a small bank?"

"With not enough money to go into mercantile business, how do you expect me to start a bank?"

"Well, sir," was the banker's reply, "you would be surprised to know upon how little money one can start a bank."

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

The board of works held a meeting yesterday afternoon approving the contract of the Barber asphalt company for paving Fairfield avenue, listened to the contentions regarding the platting of Jefferson Park addition by J. M. Henry. With Mr. Henry on one side and a number of contiguous property owners on the other, the contention lay regarding the dedication of an alley through the plat or at one side of it. Mr. Henry agreed to give seven feet of his land toward the alley provided the property owners would purchase an additional seven feet. The opposition claimed that the alley had been in use by the public for many years and that no purchase or further dedication is necessary. The board did not decide the matter, and it may have to be taken to the courts for adjustment.

The board granted to the bodies represented in the trades council the privilege of using Swinney park for the annual labor day celebration.

The water works department was this morning notified of the arrival of the long expected Downie pump over the Wabash road.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

Henry Schroeder has filed an affidavit in Bullermann's court charging Frederick Buhr, the East Wayne street grocer, with selling liquor without a license. Schroeder swears that he bought a drink of liquor from Buhr on the 29th day of July and paid for it in the coin of the realm. Buhr does not deny that he has sold liquor frequently and that he has no license, but in spite of these admissions he filed an affidavit for a change of venue. Justice Bullermann sent the case to Justice Rayhouser, of Washington township, before whom it will be tried tomorrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock—maybe. The trial of the case is up to the prosecutor. Meanwhile, one William Henze is running a saloon at No. 20 Clinton street, where he has been doing business since the 6th of last November without a license, and where he continues to do business without a license.

Justice Bullermann says he was much surprised to learn from a morning paper that he was holding an assault and battery case against Charles Nabrwald under advisement. He says his recollection is that he acquitted the young man within one minute after the testimony was all in.

William Kiser last evening filed affidavits in Bullermann's court charging Henry and Charles Freistoffer with obstructing the sidewalk and alley adjacent to Fred Kiser's tailor shop, on Harrison street, near Main. The hearing of evidence continued far into the night and at the conclusion of the trial a verdict for the defendants was given.

Some days ago Emil Ramm, a south side saloonkeeper, accused George Burkett with having shot his dog. He filed an affidavit to that effect, but no arrest was made until this morning. The hearing of the case will be in Huser's court.

There was a lively fight at Williamsport, this county, last Saturday night, in which William Schultz, a big farmer, got decidedly the worst of it. The participants were all partially intoxicated and had had trouble before the big fight was pulled off. Schultz is a very big fellow and none of his assailants cared to tackle him single handed, so they waited until he started through an alley to get his horse when they landed on him and used him up pretty badly. Yesterday he came to town and in France's court filed affidavits against Bob Rhoades (colored); "Cash" Lotz and Peter Ludwig. Deputies Daseler and Reichelderfer went out last evening to make the arrests. Ludwig got away, but the other two were brought to town and locked up. They were taken before Justice France this morning who set the time for the hearing for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Being unable to furnish bail the defendants went to jail.

Charles Fuller, one of the young fellows implicated in the trouble at Huntertown two weeks ago, when a house of bad repute was put out of business, completed his sentence this morning. He was immediately rearrested and taken before Justice Bullermann on a charge of associating with prostitutes. He was fined $18.50 and sent back to jail to serve out his time.

Two affidavits have been filed in France's court against Hanna Wise, of Barr street. One charges assault and battery on Effie Merriman and the other is for a peace bond. The warrants are in the hands of a constable and will be served as soon as the party can be found.

will be taken from the debris of this building alone.

At 1010 Locust street M. Rosenthal, wife and five children lived. They escaped with broken limbs and contusions, but the building was completely wrecked.

BLOWN FORTY FEET.

In the Rosenthal home was a boarder named Frank Schmidt. He was seated at a third-story window reading when the explosion occurred. Schmidt was blown through the window and landed upon the top of a stable forty feet from the wrecked buildings. He escaped with a few bruises.

Forty-eight persons all told were taken to the two hospitals close at hand. Of this number six are probably fatally injured, twenty-eight are suffering from fractured limbs and burns, while the injuries of the others consist of slight cuts from flying debris. The block where the explosion occurred is in a section populated largely by colored persons.

The building where the explosion is supposed to have occurred is in the center of the group of houses situated between Alder and Willow creek streets, small thoroughfares running parallel with Tenth street. In this space on the south side of Locust street the demolition is complete, while on the opposite side of the street not a pane of glass nor a door remained intact.

EXPLOSION TERRIFIC.

The force of the explosion was terrific. Huge plate glass windows in the building occupied by the Western Saving Fund, which is located more than a block from where the disaster occurred, were broken into thousands of pieces, while scarcely a house or store within a radius of a block escaped broken windows or shattered doors.

The scene at the wreck and at the hospitals this morning is sickening. Persons who had relatives and friends living in the wrecked structures are standing about weeping and almost distracted, hoping that their loved ones may have escaped a terrible death, but fearful of the worst.

The work of searching in the ruins is necessarily slow. There is a steady downpour of rain, which which makes the debris hard to handle.

The property loss will amount to about $75,000, on which there is small insurance.

GIVES NOTICE TO THE COMBINE.

city, now tied up by the Amalgamated association, but a rumor is current in the west end today that an effort will be made to start the Painter mill non-union this week. A number of fires in the mill have been lighted and while the management refuses to talk, there is every indication that something in that direction is being planned.

This morning it was reported that the management had secured three rollers, one of them a striker, who have agreed to go back. It is also said that they will get enough helpers today to start the trio on one set of rolls. A number of the strikers were seen and they say that they have heard the report and believe it to be true.

At Clark's mill and the plant of Lindsay & McCutcheon conditions are unchanged.

SITUATION ELSEWHERE.

Leechburg, Pa.—Two mills of the Hyde Park plant, which started up yesterday, worked through the night and are still in operation. No trouble has occurred, but a clash between the strikers and non-union men at midnight was narrowly averted. There is a noticeable increase of strikers' friends about the town today, while only a few new men came from Apollo and Vandergrit to work in the mill.

McKeesport, Pa.—The strikers and mill officials are inactive. The Amalgamated association is engaged in strengthening its organization in the two rolling mills of the National Tube company and it is now announced that every man in the Boston plant will come out and that 95 per cent. of the men in the National mill are members of the association. The Amalgamated officials also claim that in spite of the vigilance of the mill officials lodges have been formed in the Carnegie mills at Homestead and Duquesne.

Wellsville, Ohio.—The plant is working stronger today than at any time since the strike began. Five of the six mills were running and Manager Brockman says it will only be a question of a day or so until the plant will be running in full capacity. The strikers are orderly and are no longer interfering with the non-union men.

START A CLEVELAND MILL.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 6.—Fires were lighted early today in the furnaces of the hot-milling department of the Crescent works of the American Tin Plate company on bessemer steel. This plant has been closed since the inauguration of the Amalgamated strike. The superintendent of the mills said operations would be resumed this afternoon and declared that the old men would return to work.

The strike leaders, however, denounced the latter statement as false. While they admitted there might be a few desertions from their ranks, not enough men, it was said, would be secured to operate the mill.

Indications today pointed to the abandonment by the United States Steel corporation of the plan to operate a hoop mill in Cleveland. A big force of men was put to work this morning removing the hoop machinery from the mill. It is understood that the building will now be used as a bloom mill.

It is also stated on good authority that the steel corporation will abandon its 12 and 18-inch mills at Newburg and that they will be directly equipped as bloom mills. The manufacture of blooms is not affected by the present strike.

THE SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE.

San Francisco, Aug. 6.—Negotiations for a settlement of the labor troubles having resulted in failure, the indications now are that the strike will not be ended until after a bitter and protracted struggle. Mayor Phelan's closing statement of his services as mediator presents both sides of the controversy.

Governor Gage is now in the city and has been for two days, watching the progress of events in the labor troubles. He has been gathering information at first hand and has interviewed the labor leaders. He came to San Francisco expressly to be on the ground in the event of any emergency arising requiring his presence, and has declared his intention to acting as mediator between the employer and the employes should his services be desired.

Eugene M. Fitch, who was one of the fortunate ones on the drawing of the new Oklahoma lands, will remain in the west and prove up his claim, though Mr. Fitch has no idea of engaging in agricultural pursuits permanently. Instead of this, he will embark in the real estate, loan and insurance business, probably at Anadarko. M. T. Stokes, who went to Oklahoma with Mr. Fitch and also secured a quarter section of land, will return home soon to prepare for removal there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas were pleasantly surprised last evening by a company of their friends, who called to spend the evening in honor of the fifth anniversary of their marriage.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The Dominion day of Canada, which was celebrated on July 1, will find on January 1 next its counterpart in the southern hemisphere in Commonwealth day, which Australia, it is expected, will celebrate with becoming vigor.

By comparing the statistics of English and Scotch universities in a given year it was found that Scotland, with a population of 3,725,000, had 6,500 university students, while England had only 6,000 students out of a population about six times as great.

In a few weeks the women of Norway will be ready to take part in the local elections as full-fledged voters. A bill conferring the municipal franchise upon women has passed both houses of the Norwegian parliament (storthing) and will become a law at the end of the present session.

Singapore Chinamen are indignant with the English on account of the Duke of York's visit. Some officials thought fit to decorate the hats of the jinrikisha men with gold buttons, the Chinese mark of mandarin rank, and the Chinese in the colony refuse to accept apologies for the insult.

RECEIVER'S NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Mossman et al are plaintiffs and the Volute Nut Lock company is defendant, all the creditors of said defendant company are required to file their claims with the undersigned, duly verified, before the first (1st) day of September, 1901.

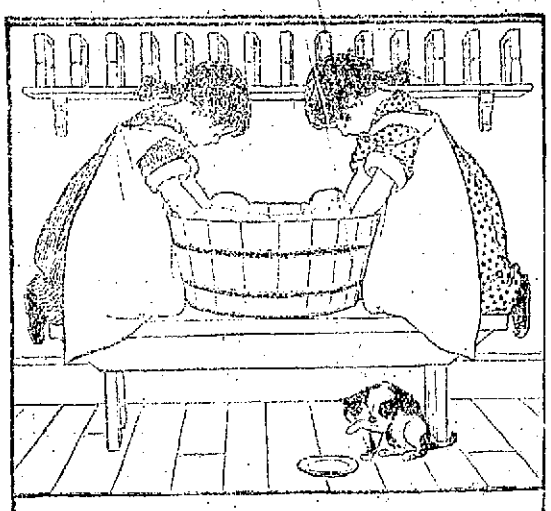
Rev. M. C. Bande, of Otis, Ind., arrived in the city today and will remain here, the guests of relatives and friends, during the session of the Lutheran conference.



TUB TRUTHS.

A DROP of ink will color a whole glass of water. It is an inch of yeast which makes a pan of bread rise, and a single cake of soap containing unabsorbed alkali can ruin a hundred times its cost in laces and fine embroidery. After all, is it wise to take such risks with common soap? Of course you can get along without Ivory Soap. So can a wagon without axle grease—but it goes hard.

FIRST CASE OF ITS KIND.

(Portland Commercial.)

Saturday morning, Judge Smith heard the case relative to May Garrett for whom admission is sought to the feeble minded school at Fort Wayne. After the testimony was given he gave a decision to the effect that she is a proper person to go there. The case is the first of its kind to be tried in Jay county, and is under a law enacted by the last legislature, which gives permission that a certain number of adult females can be admitted to the institution mentioned.

SIXTY WELLS DRILLED.

(Bluffton Banner.)

G. Max Huffman, of Fort Wayne, was in the city today superintending some repair work at the gas pumping station. Mr. Huffman stated that the Gas company is ready for winter with a good supply of gas. Sixty wells have been drilled in Blackford and Grant counties for the benefit of Fort Wayne and Bluffton. Mr. Huffman is now posing as a philanthropist, and the people of Fort Wayne certainly owe him that title. Last week Fort Wayne was suffering from a water famine, but Mr. Huffman came to their relief by loaning the two compressors at the Bluffton pumping station. The order was sent here at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and at 6 o'clock on Thursday morning Fos Harbaugh and Bab Johnson delivered the compressors in Fort Wayne. They were loaned to the city, rent free, and take the place of compressors on which the city was paying a rental of $600 a month.

Andrew Carnegie has extended his benevolence to Porto Rico, which is a good place for it.

At least the mosquito war does not impose onerous burdens on humanity and the mosquitoes do not appear to mind it a great deal.

Russell Sage has just passed into his eighty-sixth year, but against the time when he will be old and infirm he is working as usual to add to the little hoard that is to keep the wolf from his door.

The Bill Henze "pull" continues to be the best thing of the kind ever established in this city. Meanwhile, the mystery grows: How does he it and how much does it cost? As experiment, information may be ged with the prosecuting attorney.

"Banker" Leach, of Avilla, and banker" Key, of Andrews, had undoubtedly heard of the Napoleonic financial career of one Zimri Dwiggins in a number of northern Indiana towns. Zimri cut a somewhat wider swath, but he did not cut down to any shorter stubble. The town sites of Avilla and Andrews were not removed.

rather grotesque story comes New York to the effect that the er strike will in reality be a war to the knife between John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan. It is pointed out that the rivalry between hese two great money kings has own bitter and that in this strike ckefeller has a chance to land hard the Morgan solar plexus. In er and plainer terms, it is said t Rockefeller will furnish the malgamated association with nty of money to carry on its fight th the gigantic Morgan steel syndicate. No doubt the steel strikers would welcome a few millions of Rockefeller's reputed billion, but the amount they are likely to receive won't be a heap of bother to the treasurer of the Amalgamated association.

A CHANCE FOR PEACE.

The evident reluctance of President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, to issue orders for a general strike in all of the mills of the steel trust rather indicates that he has not entirely abandoned belief in the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the trouble. It is to be hoped it is the flash of a real ray of promise and not the glimmer of an ignis fatuus that he sees.

There has been a rumor that J. P. Morgan's conduct of the negotiations on the part of the steel combine with the Amalgamated board has not been entirely satisfactory to his associates. This is not at all improbable, and it may be that such dissatisfaction will lead to another conference. At all events, the country generally will wish there may be another effort to bring about peace. he strike now imminent gives full promise of becoming not only the st gigantic but the most bitterly ested war between capital and labor this country has ever seen. And it comes at a time when it can least be afforded either by capital or labor.

While a question of abstract principle is a most difficult issue to submit to arbitration, it might avert a calamitous labor war if both parties to the dispute would agree upon some impartial man of distinguished public relations to help bring about an honorable peace.

ARMY SURGEON SUICIDES.

Alameda, Cal., Aug. 6.—Dr. Charles Hamden Field committed suicide today by inhaling illuminating gas. He was formerly a surgeon in the United States army at Fort Wayne, Mich. He was also an ex-surgeon of the pension bureau, and at one time surgeon of the Union Pacific railroad.

REPUBLICANS OF MARYLAND

NOMINATE A TICKET AND ADOPT A PLATFORM.

National Issues Emphasized in the Declarations of the Party—

Democrats Denounced.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—The issues in the campaign which will determine whether or not Arthur Pue Gorman will again occupy a seat in the United States senate and become a factor in national politics were fully made up today by the action of the republicans at their state convention.

They met here, as did the democrats a week ago, and like the democrats paid more attention to the adoption of a platform than to the selection of candidates for the minor offices of controller and clerk of the court of appeals.

There were but two aspirants for the former position whose names were under consideration before the convention assembled. Of these ex-Congressman Isaac N. Barber, of Talbot, was the favorite from the eastern shore, while Terman S. Platt, of Baltimore City, was understood to be the choice of the leaders and of the delegates from most of the western counties.

Thomas P. Pareau, of Calvert, was far and away the leader in the race for clerk of the court of appeals, his opponent being James E. Belt, of Prince Georges, and James E. Waddell, of Dorchester.

The friends of former Congressman Barber decided before the convention assembled not to present his name for the state controllership and Messrs. Belt and Waddell withdrew from the race for the clerkship of the court of appeals. This left the delegates nothing to do but to nominate by acclamation the following ticket:

For State Controller—Hermann S. Platt, of Baltimore City.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals—Thomas Parran, of Colvert county.

The platform is the work of United States Senator McComas and Philips Lee Goldsborough, chairman of the state central committee, who is regarded as a promising candidate for the seat of Senator Wellington in the event of republican success.

Unlike the democratic declaration of principles adopted last week much stress is laid upon national issues. The administration of President McKinley is heartily endorsed; the policy of the republican party upon the tariff, the currency and other vital questions of national moment is vigorously commended, while that of the democrats in the state is quite as vigorously denounced. Governor Smith comes in for a full measure of condemnation for having called the special session of the legislature which was held in the spring of this year while the party which placed him in office is soundly berated for having passed the new election laws.

NEW RULE APPRECIATED.

That the order allowing subscribers to choose books from the shelves at the public library is decidedly popular is evinced by the increasing patronage of the circulation department, especially by the younger people, who are beginning to take a lively interest in the "children's corner." Books from the reference department are called for more often and it is a noticable fact that regular subscribers come more frequently than has been their custom heretofore. Everything at the temporary quarters is now ready for the convenience of the public and the indications point to a much larger patronage this year than ever before.

INDIANS ARE FIGHTING.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 6.—In a fight yesterday on the Flathead Indian reservation six Indians and three half-breeds exchanged a number of shots. One of the Indians was shot in the arm. The Indians objected to the half-breeds picking up cattle on the reservation and further trouble is feared.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Oakland City, Ind., Aug. 6.—In defense of his own life, according to the story he told the sheriff, James Harbison shot and instantly killed Frank Osborn, his rival, three miles west of this city yesterday afternoon. Osborn, who is said to have sworn to kill Harbison, went to the field where his intended victim was at work, and, it is alleged, told Harbison to prepare to die, as he had come to "blow out his heart." Harbison, in anticipation of trouble with Osborn, it is said, was armed, and before his alleged would-be slayer could execute his threat Harbison drew his revolver and shot his adversary through the heart.

Both the young men were suitors for the hand of the same girl, and were insanely jealous of each other. According to the friends of Harbison, in the trouble between the rivals, Osborn was the aggressor. Harbison came to Oakland City last night and surrendered to the sheriff.

NEELY CASE DEPOSITIONS.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 6.—Attorney J. J. M. LaFollette, assistant federal district attorney for Indiana, was in Muncie yesterday and before United States Commissioner Ellis evidence was taken in the Neely Cuban postal robbery case, from Muncie witnesses, who will not go to the island to testify for the government. Ross J. Cowan, of the Neely Printing company; Harry Richey, of the Muncie postoffice force, who was employed in the postal service in Cuba; W. D. Kutz and others testified, and their depositions will be sent to Cuba at once.

Mr. LaFollette refused to give out anything concerning the nature of the depositions, but late last night it was learned that W. D. Kutz, head bookkeeper for the Union National bank, testified that after Neely went to Cuba he put more than $40,000 on deposit in the institution to his own credit. Ross J. Cowan, president of the Neely Printing company, testified that after he had purchased Neely's interest in the company, the government printing secured from Neely on behalf of the Cuban authorities amounted to about $10,000. It had been supposed heretofore that this item did not exceed $2,000 or $3,000. The testimony of the other witnesses was unimportant.

SUIT FOR $30,000.

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 6.—About 6 o'clock last evening Morgan L. Miers, a wealthy farmer, filed suit for $30,000 damages against S. P. Minear, a merchant, for alleged alienation of his wife's affections. Mr. Minear is making preparations to leave for New York on business and the papers were served upon him at once. The suit is the result of some trouble between the men last week. Miers returned from his farm one night and found Minear at his city home, in the company of Mrs. Miers, and there was an encounter between them. Miers also has filed suit for divorce.

BARNS AND GRAIN BURNED.

LaGrange, Ind., Aug. 6.—Two barns and a sheep shed on Representative Gillett's farm, two miles west of here, burned yesterday afternoon. The fire was caused by a spark from a stacker. The insurance is $200. Farmers rescued four horses. Several hogs, a thresher, 400 bushels of wheat and rye and some hay were consumed. Thomas Carter, a neighbor, jumped from a burning stack and broke his heel bone, also spraining his ankle very seriously. James Boyd, the tenant, had $200 insurance on his stock.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 6.—The trustees of the Northern Indiana Baptist association have chosen the following officers: President, William A. Banks, Laporte; vice president, G. T. Hodsden, South Bend; secretary and treasurer, W. D. Spore, Laporte.

FINE FISHERMEN.

Bourbon, Ind., Aug. 6.—Deputy Fish Commissioner James Liggett of Marshall county, and Frank Miller, of Kosciusko, each made a general raid over his territory last Saturday, gathering in twenty-seven gill nets and eight spears in Twin lakes, Huffman and Cedar lakes. The fines and costs assessed amount to over $30 in each case. Rev. O. R. Jones, of Cedar Lake, was found with a net in his possession.

WAIF FINDS HER FATHER.

Brazil, Ind., Aug. 6.—Dollie Andrews, a waif sheltered by the Child savings institute at Omaha, Neb., is revealed to be the daughter of John Richards, a wealthy merchant of this city. The father has been looking for the child for ten years. He intrusted her to the Andrews woman when she was four years old. Mrs. Andrews was separated from her husband and went on the vaudeville stage. She confessed the child's identity upon her death bed.

ON A HEINOUS CHARGE.

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 6.—Late yesterday afternon Abe Buchanan, of this city, was arrested at Williamstown, Ind., and brought here by Sheriff Davis and lodged in jail on an affidavit, filed by his wife, charging him with criminal assault on their nine-year-old daughter, Jennie Buchanan. The girl told her mother and also some neighbors that she had been ravished by her father and a physician was called. The affidavit was filed on his report. The case will be heard by Justice Thomas Powers. Buchanan is a day laborer, about thirty-four years old.

THIRD ATTEMPT SUCCESSFUL.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 6.—Mrs. William Bostos, the wife of a prosperous resident of Rosedale, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by drinking a large quantity of carbolic acid. After preparing dinner and placing it on the table she went into an adjoining room, where she was found on the floor writhing in death agonies by her husband, who rushed into the room when he heard her say, "Good bye, Bill." Despondency is supposed to be the cause of her rash act. She attempted to end her life twice before.

BIG FINES FOR LIQUOR MEN.

Rutland, Vt., Aug. 6.—The heaviest sentences that have been imposed in Vermont for many years for violation of the prohibitory laws were given yesterday to the liquor dealers of Vermont by R. S. Taft, of Burlington, chancellor of the court of chancery. These men have heretofore escaped with small occasional fines and have grown rich at the business. John Barrett, proprietor of the Brunswick hotel, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100; Walter Jasmine, druggist, six months' imprisonment and $500; Martin McMahon, druggist, six months' imprisonment and $500; James Gilrain, owner of the Hotel Commercial, six months' imprisonment and $200; William Dugan, druggist, $750; Stephen Cragin, druggist, $750; John Welch, druggist, $250. Two of Rutland's four hotels, the Brunswick and Commercial, and West Rutland's only hotel, the West Rutland house, against which a case is pending, are now closed, their owners declaring that they cannot be run at a profit without the bars.

SHAM WAR WITH REAL LOSSES.

New York, Aug. 6.—Commenting upon the naval manoeuvres in which the attacking squadron supposed to represent "the enemy" has just been declared victor the Tribune's London correspondent says:

"There has been more realism in these manoeuvres than the admiralty authorities had expected. Not only have two torpedo boat destroyers been lost, but it is reported that several others have been crippled. The wreck of the Viper was, of course, the most serious accident of the manoeuvres. This vessel was an experiment, and her performances were being witnessed with a critical eye by the admiralty experts. The destroyer Violet is reported to be in a bad way. Nearly all her water tube boilers have been disabled through split tubes, and it was only by great presence of mind and prompt action that the stokers were saved from being scalded to death. There are rumors of incidents of a similar nature on other vessels, about which there will probably be a full inquiry."

NERVES LIKE A FLAT-IRON.

A woman who suffered for three years from nervous prostration says two bottles of Lichty's Celery Nerve Compound effected a complete cure. She hardly knows today whether she has nerves or not, as she never feels them. It is certainly a wonderful remedy. Sold by Dreier & Bro., corner Calhoun and Columbia streets.

DIED OF BLOOD POISONING.

Ballstone, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Prof. Sidney Sherwood, of Johns Hopkins university, died at Ballstone Center last evening. He was spending his vacation on a farm and while tying a tree on July 26 accidentally cut his right hand. Blood poisoning set in and resulted in his death. The body will be taken to Cornwall-on-the-Hudson for burial.

GARDEN TRUCK HIGH.

The market this morning was unusually light and prices of country produce ranged unusually high. New potatoes sold at 30 cents a peck, corn at 15 cents a dozen and other stuff correspondingly high. The market gardeners say that the dry weather has made their crop very light and they predict still greater scarcity and higher prices.

ROBISON PARK THEATER.

Ever since the engagement of Charles Wayne and Anna Caldwell at Robison Park the management of this popular resort has been urged by its many patrons to again present to them another high-class attraction and after duly considering the request of the many, the management has decided to present Hilda Thomas and company, which is considered one of the strongest cards on the vaudeville stage, of whom the Boston Herald has the following to say:

"There have been a number of good comedians here within the past few weeks, some with new-made reputations and others who are old standbys, but in the list of impersonators Hilda Thomas stands very near the top. In the first place, Miss Thomas is a lady with a charming personality, and on the stage that counts for much. In her sketch called "Miss Ambition" she has an opportunity to introduce a number of characters, all of which are very different, but in each she has made a decided hit. Miss Thomas' humor is of the spontaneous character. She is bubbling over with it, and it is infectious. She smiles the smile of good nature and is true to life every time. Her Bowery girl is among the best of the many that have been seen on the stage in recent years, and as a society lady she is equally natural, but good-natured withal. That the audience was pleased and appreciated her was shown by the rounds of applause last evening, and she certainly made one of the greatest hits in a bill that contained a number of favorites."

In addition to this attraction there will be four other high-class acts, making the bill for that week one of the strongest and most expensive ever given at the park. For this week the prices will be as follows: Box seats, 50 cents; first twelve rows, 25 cents; next eight rows, 15 cents; general admission, 10 cents. Seats now on sale at Alter's cigar store.

The Theosophical society has removed its headquarters in the Elektron building and the library officials have leased the room vacated by them, which will be used as a private office for the librarian, Miss Colerick.

Harry Pickard will go to Buffalo next Sunday, to remain a week.

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feebleness. It quiets the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wifely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Retta Snider, of Wilkesville, Vinton Co., Ohio. "I was suffering from female trouble of the worst kind; I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me by spells; was nervous and weak. Had numb hands and arms, heart trouble, pains all through my body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at all. I got Dr. Pierce's medicine and took it as directed, and the first week it began to help me. I took three bottles and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MINISTERS AND LAYMEN HERE FOR CONVENTION.

Annual Session of This District of Missouri German Lutheran Synod Opens Tomorrow.

The thirty-seventh annual gathering of the Central district of the Missouri synod of the German Lutheran church will open tomorrow morning at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Barr street, and delegates to the number of about 350 are expected to be in attendance. The delegates, ministers, professors, teachers and laymen began to arrive in the city this morning and it is believed that the full quota will be here for the opening session tomorrow morning.

The Central district comprises the states of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky and many of the leading Lutheran teachers and ministers in the three states will be in attendance. The sessions open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will continue until next Tuesday evening. At the service tomorrow morning Rev. P. Brand, of Pittsburg, will officiate, and the president of the district, Rev. J. Nieman, of Cleveland, O., will make his annual address and report. The balance of the morning will be devoted to a discussion of doctrines. In the afternoon there will be a business meeting and the subject of missions will be the chief topic of the day. Throughout the convention the order of doctrinal discussions in the morning and business sessions in the afternoon will be followed.

Arrangements have been made for several public services, and the first of these will be held on Thursday evening at 7:30 when Rev. Kuechele or Rev. Klausing will officiate. On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Rev. Schust or Rev. Wilder will preach, and communion will be observed. In the evening the pulpit will be filled by Rev. P. Rump or Rev. P. Goring. The fourth public service will be held on Monday evening when Rev. P. Pretorius or Rev. P. Frank will preach, and communion will again be administered.

St. Paul's Lutheran church is the largest in point of numbers in the district, and conventions of a similar character have been held in it a number of times since the organization of the district. The congregation numbers nearly three thousand.

URGES FILIPINOS TO FIGHT.

Manila, Aug. 6.—Miguel Malavar, who has been recognized as the successor of Aguinaldo by the Filipino junta at Hong Kong, has issued a proclamation dated July 16, copies of which arrived here yesterday, giving assurances to the natives of the continuation of an active campaign and expressing hope for its successful issue.

The proclamation, of which 50,000 copies have been printed, purports to emanate from Batangas. It is a characteristic insurgent document, charging the Americans with all sorts of atrocities. It recounts the losses of guns and ammunition and the death of four distinguished American officers July 10, all of which, it says, the authorities concealed. The proclamation threatens General Chaffee with death for treachery and warns all Filipinos who surrender that they will never be able to live outside the American lines. Malavar claims he has sufficient arms and supplies to continue the fighting indefinitely.

The American officials believe the proclamation was really written by Agoncillo, the former representative of Aguinaldo in Europe, at Hong Kong, and that he probably has never seen Malavar. Strong efforts are being made by the police to prevent the distribution of the proclamation.

SUICIDE OF INDIANA MAN.

Wichita, Kas., Aug. 6. A respectable-looking young man of twenty-three committed suicide at the Hamilton hotel last night by taking laudanum. He tore his name off his marked garments, including his hat, and left an unsigned note asking that his body be kept for three days, when Elmer Scripturs, of Westport, Ind., would take charge of it. He is evidently a bank clerk as he had a letter from a bank of Hope, Ind., recommending Herbert Robbins. He registered under the apparently fictitious name of R. J. Harding, of St. Louis.

BEGIN WAR ON MOSQUITOES.

New York, Aug. 6—Dr. A. H. Doty, health officer of the port, and his assistants have at last commenced the war of destruction of the mosquitoes of Greater New York and vicinity. They have taken their paraphernalia, which consists largely of kerosene oil, to the pond near Concord, Staten Island, and forced barrels of the oil under the surface of the water. It was expected that while the fluid is making its way to the surface it will destroy all the embryonic mosquito life therein. Dr. Doty said he could not be positive about the success of the experiment for a month to come, but he thought it would work well. Dr. Eugene Monaghan, sanitary superintendent of the Borough of the Bronx, says he believes the malaria at Fordsham was caused by the mosquitoes. The experiments of Dr. Doty are being watched, and if they are successful the scattering of oil on the swamps and low places in Fordsham will be begun.

BLEW DRIVER TO ATOMS

WAGON AND TEAM WIPED OUT OF EXISTENCE.

Havoc Wrought by Explosion of 800 Quarts of Nitro-glycerine—Escape of Passenger Train.

Bowling Green, Ohio, Aug. 6.—Eight hundred quarts of nitroglycerine, on a stock wagon, exploded on the Munn road near this city yesterday afternoon and blew the driver, the team and wagon to atoms. The accident occurred where the road crosses the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad, and an approaching passenger train narrowly escaped disaster.

The driver was Will Radabaugh, of the Hercules Torpedo company, and he was taking the glycerine to a magazine. He evidently saw the train approaching and endeavored to cross the track ahead of it, when the reckless gait over the rails probably caused the explosion. Fortunately the train was stopped before it had reached the great hole which the explosion made. The passengers were shaken up, and pieces of wood and iron were hurled against the cars. Traffic was stopped on the road for several hours.

A barn about 200 feet from where the explosion occurred was reduced to kindling wood and set on fire, and a house about 400 feet from the scene of the disaster was riddled and knocked out of all semblance to a building. Doors and windows were smashed and curtains and bedding torn into bits. Iron beds were twisted and not an article of furniture was left whole. Mrs. Abraham Teal and her two sons, Willie and Roland, aged 7 and 9, were in the house and their escape from death is a miracle, though neither the children nor their mother received a cut or mark. Mrs. Teal is in a precarious condition from the shock and it is feared that she may not recover. Pieces of timber were driven through the house, making a hole like a cannon ball. For some eighty rods in all directions the fences are swept out of existence.

FACTORY WANTS TO COME.

Secretary Monning, of the Commercial club, is in communication with a firm of chair manufacturers who are seeking a location for their factory, and have expressed a willingness to come to Fort Wayne. The matter will be placed in the hands of the club's committee on manufactures.

A TRAVELER'S EXPERIENCE.

Sitting in the rotunda of the Planters' hotel, St. Louis, a gentleman who has traveled for many years as salesman, told, reminiscently, of the trials of one constantly on the move.

To the casual observer it looks easy. The traveler wears good clothes, stays at the best hotels, is always in good spirits (apparently anyway), and is never at a loss for a pleasant word. But the other side of the picture; the loneliness, the nervous tension, the constant mental and physical strain; only the traveler knows that it is not easy to always feel well; that the best of care must be taken of the stomach; that digestion must be perfect or failure is the result.

After trying many methods and remedies, he continued: "I have found that when tired and run down, as the result of indigestion and constipation, nothing helps me so quickly and surely as the Peptorena Health Tablets. Perfect digestion is at once restored and I meet my customers with renewed nerve and vigor. I certainly would not be without a box of this remarkable remedy." Manufactured by the Battle Creek Health Tablet Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Michigan.

TO A BOOKWORM.

Oh, gentle worm, most wise, though oft denounced a pest,
Who didst the pages of the ancients' books infest,
Their contents chew upon and inwardly digest,
I envy thee when o'er thy corpse I look!

For 'twixt the vellum walls of some sweet classic tome,
Mid leaves ink scented thou didst have thy cloistered home,
All margined round with virgin fields in which to roam
Whene'er thou caredst to leave thy lettered nook.

And when thou'dst riddled thy last line, a Petrarch,
What happy destiny was thine, denied to us,
To lay thy sapient bones in such sarcophagus
And be forever buried in a book!

—John H. Finley in Century.

TAKING HIS ADVICE.

How a Man Applied a Rule He Intended For His Neighbor to Himself.

Mr. Sheldon was the principal merchant in the important manufacturing town of Tormont. He was proud of his wealth, but he was still more proud of the fact that he had made it all himself, and his pride was greatest because he had made it by never allowing anybody to get ahead of him.

"That's the secret of success in life, Harry," he said one day to his favorite clerk. "Sharp's the motto if you wish to rise. I don't mean you should cheat. That of course is both wrong and ungentlemanly," Mr. Sheldon prided himself also on being what he called a gentleman and above all little meannesses. "But always be wide awake and never let anybody cheat you. I've noticed, by the bye, that you've seemed rather downhearted lately. If it's because you've your fortune yet to make, don't despair, but follow my advice. An opening will come at some time for something better than a clerkship, and, though I shall be sorry to lose you, yet I'll give you up if it's for your interest."

"Thank you," said Harry, apparently not a bit cheered up by this cool way of being told he had nothing to expect from Mr. Sheldon, "but it's not exactly that. I suppose I shall get along somehow."

"What is it, my dear boy, then? I really take an interest in you, as you know." And he did so far as words were concerned. "Perhaps I can give you some advice."

"Well," said Harry, with some hesitation, "I'm in love, and"—

"In love!" exclaimed the rich merchant. "In love and with only a clerk's salary to marry on. It will never do-never do, Harry. Marriage for one like you is fastening a millstone round your neck unless indeed"—and he stopped, as if a bright thought had struck him—"unless indeed the girl is rich."

"She is rich, or will be, I suppose," answered Harry, "for her father is a wealthy man. But that's just the difficulty. Her father would never let her marry a poor man, and she won't marry without his consent."

"What a miserable tyrant!" said Mr Sheldon. "If I was the lover, Harry, I'd run off with her, I'd checkmate the old curmudgeon in that way." And he chuckled at the imaginary triumph he would achieve. "'Pon my soul, I would! I never, as I told you, let anybody take a rise out of me."

"But would that be honorable?"

"Honorable? Isn't everything fair in love and war? I thought you had some pluck, Harry. How I should like to see the stingy old hunk rave and stump about on his gouty toes—for he must be gouty—when he heard of your elopement!"

And he laughed till his portly sides shook at the picture he had conjured up.

"He'd probably never forgive me," said Harry dejectedly. "And then what could I do, with a wife brought up to every luxury and only a poor clerk's salary to support her on?"

"Never forgive you? Trash and nonsense! They always do forgive. They can't help it. Besides," with a confidential wink, "I think I know your man! It's that skinflint, Meadows. I've heard of your being sweet on his daughter. She's a pretty minx, though she is his child. Oh, you needn't deny it. I saw how you hung about her at our party the other night, and when I joked about it with my daughter the next morning she as good as admitted that it was true, saying it would be a very good match for you. Now, I owe old Meadows a grudge. He tried to do me in those railway shares last winter, and I mean to pay him for it somehow. I tell you what I'll do. I must not ask, mind you, who the girl is. Mum must be the word. I must not of course be known in the affair, but I'll give you leave of absence for a month and a check for $250 to pay for your wedding trip if you'll make a runaway match. Is it agreed? Well, there's my hand on it. Here's the check. Egad! Won't the old man howl when he hears how we've done him!"

Harry seemed to hesitate, however, and it was not until Mr. Sheldon, eager to see his old commercial rival put at a disadvantage, had urged him again and again and promised to stand by him that he finally consented and took the check which his employer persisted in forcing upon him.

The next morning Mr. Sheldon came down to breakfast in high glee, for a note had reached him just as he was shaving which ran as follows:

Dear Sir—I have, with much difficulty, persuaded her to elope. It was not, however, till I showed her your check that she would consent to do so. She said that she was sure you would not recommend anything that was wrong; that you would advise her as if you were her own father, and she hopes you will stand by us. We shall be married tomorrow, before Mr. Meadows is up. Very thankfully, HARRY CONRAD.

The old gentleman brought the note with him to the table, opened it out before him, adjusted his spectacles and read it over and over again.

"I'd give $100," he said, chuckling, "to see the old fellow's face when he hears how Harry has done him."

It was the custom of Mr. Sheldon to read his newspaper at breakfast while waiting for his only child and daughter, who, a little spoiled by overindulgence, was generally late.

But this morning Matty was later than ever.

The banker had read all the foreign as well as the home news and even perused Harry's note, and still she had not made her appearance.

"The lazy puss!" he said at last. Then he looked up at the clock. "Half an hour late! Now, this is really too bad, John," he cried, addressing the manservant at the sideboard, "send and see why Miss Sheldon doesn't come down. Tell her," with a severe air, "I'm tired of waiting."

John came back in about five minutes, looking very much flustered.

"If you please, sir," he stammered, "Miss Sheldon's not in her room, and the maid says that the bed looks as if it hadn't been slept in all night."

The rich merchant's jaw fell.

He started up, with a cry of agony, to go and see, but he was prevented by the footman appearing at the door with a telegram.

"A telegram!" cried the merchant, unfolding it with trembling hands. "What can it mean? Has she been found dead anywhere?"

This was the telegram:

Dear Father—Harry and I were married at 6 o'clock this morning. I would not consent to an elopement till Harry assured me you had advised it and had shown me your check as proof. He says you promised to stand by us, and I know you pride yourself on never breaking a promise. We wait for your blessing. MATTY.

"Well, I never!" ejaculated Mr. Sheldon when he had recovered his breath. "The impudent, disobe"—

But here he stopped—stopped and mopped his bald head, which, in his excitement, had broken out into great drops of perspiration. He remembered that he had himself advised Harry to elope and that if the story got wind he would be the laughing stock of the town, including—the hardest cut of all—Mr. Meadows. He remembered, too, that he had but one child and that she was all in all to him.

So he accepted the inevitable and telegraphed back:

You may come home, and the sooner the better, so as to keep the 250 for pin money. Tell Harry he's too sharp to remain a clerk and that I'll take him today into partnership; only he must remember that partners never tell tales out of school. God bless you! H. SHELDON.

The runaways returned by the next train. The marriage proved, too, an exceedingly happy one. The story never got out. We only tell it now in confidence.—Woman's Life.

A Little Umbrella Story.

One rainy evening when traffic on the elevated road was dull a guard on the Sixth avenue line found a comparatively new silk umbrella in one of the cars. When a lone passenger entered the car at Park place, the guard proudly showed his find.

"It comes in great for me tonight," he said. "This is my last trip, and I have a long walk. I had no umbrella."

The lone passenger, who was also without a rain protector, congratulated the guard.

The two carried on a pleasant conversation, only interrupted by stops at stations. In time the train reached the Eighty-first street station, where the passenger was to get out. The guard had carefully deposited his umbrella in a corner of the front platform of the car. While he was busy opening the gates the passenger quietly lifted it from its resting place and left the car. As the guard closed the gates and gave the bellcord a vigorous pull he saw his former passenger walking along the platform carrying the umbrella.

"Hey, there! Stop it! Bring that back!" shouted the guard.

"I need it myself," replied the recent passenger.

"Come back, I say! You are a thief!" cried the guard as the train slowly pulled out.

The new proprietor of the umbrella only smiled as he walked down the steps. He now shows the umbrella to his legal friends and quotes the old adage, "Possession is nine points of the law."—New York Times.

Amelia Knew Her Business.

Amelia was all sweet, nice and nervous, and she said to her sweetheart:

"You have been so old a friend I want to tell you something. I am," and she blushed, "I am going to be married."

"Wait!" he cried honestly. "Before you go further, hear me. I must say it, though I have no right now, but I will have less right later. I love you, I adore you. I have loved you since we were children together. I do not see how I can live and see you the wife of another. But at least you will know that I have loved you all these years, and when you hear the wind sigh over my distant grave—of course that is nonsense"—

"Don't take on so, John Henry," she said softly. "I'm going to marry—you!"

Then the strong man fainted, and as she bent over him a determined little line showed about her mouth, and she muttered, "I had to do something to bring him to it."

Champion High Jumper.

A curious lantern fly discovered by naturalists in the Malay archipelago possesses the power of jumping several feet without opening its wings. It has a projection on its head which, when bent back and suddenly released, throws the insect into the air. The fly was seen to jump from the ground to the roof of a hut.

AT THE URN.

Ida sitteth at the urn
Every afternoon at three,
Since that summer at Luserne
I am very fond of tea.
"Sugar?" "Thank you; just a lump."
Ah, Pilatus, proud and free,
How my bosom's heart goes thump!
I am very fond of—e.

Ida sitteth at the urn.
"Does more cost?" "Why, certainly."
While we watched Swiss sunsets burn
I grew very fond of—tea.
Now we're married, in a flat;
She prints things; I write, you see;
Cheap and blest—and all that,
And we're very fond of—tea.

—Robert Loveman in Criterion.

"Can I dew anything moar for ye, Sally?" said Bob Heron, the cowman, to his sister as he finished banging the mud and "muck" off the mars against the outhouse wall.

"Why, whatever ha' come to ye?" said his sister. "D'ye want anything?"

For years Sally had taken upon herself the unenviable task of looking after her old father and of "mothering" her three younger brothers. Her efforts to keep them going in food and clothes were wont to meet with more unmerited abuse and foul language than any return in the shape of attention, gratitude or help. This she felt the more as she was a woman with ideas of refinement that were unusual in the neighborhood of Frogsthorpe and took to heart the complaints of her great loutish brothers that "they hadn't got noo mother." Bob's desire to assist her in any way surprised her.

"Narthen to sigerfy," said Bob sheepishly. "Can't I dew narthen moar?"

Sally bustled about and deftly filled up the kitchen. Out of the corner of her eyes she watched Bob hanging around uncomfortably with an evident wish to ask something and a reluctance to make a start.

"Shall I sluch the bricks down for ye?" inquired Bob.

"Come an do," said Sally. "Tell us what 'tis. Surely to goodness ye ain't afeard."

"Will ye prarmus not to put the grin on tew me?" Bob asked.

"Why, what should I want to do that for?" said Sally, who was getting inquisitive and knew the only way to extract information from her brother was to evince no curiosity. "But just as ye like. I can't keep muddlin about here all the mornin."

"I want ye to tell me what to say," Bob gasped out.

"Say? Say what? Whatever are ye talkin about? I don't know the meanin on't."

"Well! There's a gal!" Bob began nervously.

"Ah! There's plenty o' them," said Sally, unconcernedly.

"I want ye to tell me what to sayy in a letter," burst out Bob. "Lor', Sally, she's a gre't wench: She's bigger'n yew. Har hair's that black! 'Tain't like yurn." (Sally was fair.) "She's big as me. An har eyes! Lor', har eyes fare to goo right trew ye they be so shiny an se black."

"A love letter?" said Sally. "No, Bob, I don't know nothin about love. I ain't goin to mix up along o' no love."

"Noo, noo!" expostulated Bob. "'Tain't come to that yit. But I see har brother t'other daay, an he axed me to goo oover an see har, an I axed him if I should write an tell har I was a-comin, an he said as he'd find out."

"D'ye want to walk out with her, then?" said Sally.

"I dosn't knoo azackly as yit," Bob answered. "D'ye think she'd maake a good wife?"

"How can I tell?" asked Sally, with some show of reason. "Do I know her?"

"Noo," said Bob. "But she bain't like yew. She's a strappin wench, an my missus 'ull hev to wark to help to 'arn the grub."

"Do she wear a fall an gloves?" asked Sally slyly, reminiscent of fraternal remonstrances at her own occasional lapses into gentility.

"That she doan't!" said Bob. "She shan't wear noo fall nor noo gloves."

"Ye'll have to treat her different to what you do me," said Sally, "ar she won't put up wi't."

"I'll trate her prarper," Bob promised. "She shall hev all the grub she can get down har, but she shan't hev noo bare nor stout. They dosn't dew ye a might o' good."

Bob was an adolescent valetudinarian in his way and was just then strong on total abstinence.

"I wouldn't write no letter," said Sally. "That's dangerous. She might hev ye up for breach o' promise."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob, who in all ceremonial matters was guided by his sister.

"That 'ould be best—to see her," said Sally. "How offen hev ye seed her?"

"I dosn't knoo much on har, an tha'as a fuck," admitted Bob. "She's in survice out at Chetbridge, an har brother axed me if I'd like to goo oover."

"Well, that appears funny to me," mused Sally, keeping her countenance, but chuckling inwardly. "What d'ye want to write for?"

"I'm a-goolu to dew the thing prarper," Bob explained. "Not seam's as yew an yar chap what never came to narthen. I want to hev a prarper onerstandin afoor I gits engaged, an I hain't got noo mother, wuss luck, an thote as yew'd help me."

"Ye get your onnerstandin talkin," advised Sally. "That fare strange to me she should set her brother on to ye like that."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob nervously.

"Hev ye ever kissed her?" asked Sally slyly.

"Blaame it, noo!" Bob roared. "But I should wholly like tew," he added softly.

"Take her out an kiss her, then, an be done wi't," said Sally, more experienced in wooing. "But do ye mind ye bain't sucked in."

"What d'ye mane?" asked Bob.

"They say as fish hawkers cry stinkin fish the loudest," answered Sally sententiously, "an har brother wholly holler tew."

"D'ye think soo?" muttered Bob, alarmed at unconsidered possibilities. "But har eyes mank ye jump, they be so bright. She's the prattiest gal ye ever see. I'll mank ye a bet ou't," he added by way of self consolation.

"I spooz," he said after a pause—"I spooz yow 'couldn't write for me an ax har if she'd walk out wi' me. I bain't got noo mother to dew it, wuss luck."

It may be incidentally remarked that Bob was 28 years of age and, with his brothers, was always lamenting the want of a mother. That lady during her life left the charge of her young children altogether to Sally and neglected them and her home equally.

"Yew may take your oath o' that," answered Sally firmly in reply to Bob's hint. "If ye got sucked in, ye'd lay it all on me. Ye must hoe your own land. Ye'd better tell her brother ye'll meet her o' Sunday."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob and subsequently acted on her advice.

* * * * * * *

When Bob had finished the milking on Sunday morning and arranged for an evening substitute, he grew into a fever of unrest. "Sally," he called, "whear's my clane shut? Wheer's my collar? Will ye black my bewts for me? I'll gi'e ye tuppence. Come an tie my tie. Shall a weer a flower? D'ye think she'll like to goo to chapel? How dew I look in my new clothes?"

At last Sally got him off and turned her attention to the midday meal.

She sat up for his return at night. He came in about 10 and found his sister alone. The others had gone to bed. His face wore an expression of mingled indignation and shame.

"Well, how did ye get on?" asked Sally. "Hev ye had your tea?"

"I dosn't want noo tea," said Bob. "Le's goo to bed."

"Good night, then," said Sally, knowing there was more to come, but making a pretense of turning out the lamp.

"Blaame it!" struck in Bob hoarsely. "She an har brother met me at Chetbridge just as the Swan was oopenin. She said she was dry, soo I axed her in to hev some'at. T'ree glasses o' stout fer har an t'ree glasses o' nale fer hoz brother I paaid foor, tha'as ninepunce, an a glass o' mild bare fer me is tenpence, an neither o' them offered to paay a farden. Then arterwards Tom left us, an we walked to St. Mary's-on-the-Fern, an she said as we wus travelers an walkin made har wholly dry. Soo we went into the King's Head, an she had t'ree moor glasses o' stout an a half o' mild for me. Tha'as fivepence ha'p'ny an one an t'reppence ha'p'ny is one an nine. Goin hooam to Chetbridge that wuz gettin dark, but she wanted to set under the hedge ag'in. Howsomedevar, I said the ground was damp, an she said as I wuz a sorft fewl, an we'd best git on to the Swan afore they shut. But I'd had enow on't an come hoosm. Thun's just like yew be, mixin me up along of a wench what cost me one an ninepence an would ha' done moor if I'd ha' let her. Now's the time when I feeal I hain't got noo mother. I shan't gi'e yew yar shillin this weenk out o' my money. I must look arter myself same as yew dew, livin hare, keep like a queean a-dewin narthen. Nice dewin's I call it!"

And Bob went up to bed grumbling and cursing, while his sister laughed silently down stairs.

Bob is still a bachelor, but he has another girl in his eye and wants Sally to test her quality before he commits himself to another one and ninepenny Sunday.—Black and White.

Respectfully Referred.

As The Green Bag has it, Chief Justice Marshall used to narrate with great glee the following correspondence on a point of honor between Governor Giles of Virginia and Patrick Henry. The governor wrote:

Sir—I understand that you have called me a bobtail politician. I wish to know if it be true, and, if true, your meaning. W. B. GILES.

Patrick Henry's reply came promptly:

Sir—I do not recollect calling you a bobtail politician at any time, but think it probable that I have. I can't say what I did mean, but if you will tell me what you think I meant I will say whether you are correct or not. Very respectfully, PATRICK HENRY.

This was leaving it to Giles with a vengeance; but, as there was no further correspondence, the governor of Virginia must have read satisfaction somewhere between the lines of Patrick Henry's brilliantly equivocal reply.

It was Mr. Ehret's turn yesterday to distinguish himself and he did it with a loud and resounding boom. He did not do much in the way of hitting, but he fielded his position perfectly and held the Old Soldiers down to seven hits. Nattress led in the hitting for Fort Wayne and Hardesty led in the bobbles, making two in center field. The score shows plenty of errors for both clubs, but it does not show the fact that the errors were costly on both sides and were responsible for two of Dayton's runs. The same teams play another game today and then Fort Wayne goes to Columbus for two games before coming home. Fort Wayne is still in fourth place by a single, stingey little point, but if "Doggie" wins today he will land his team uncomfortably close to second place. It is a pretty race all round, although Matthews can scarcely be considered much of a factor after that team gets away from Marion. Following is yesterday's score:

BASE BALL NOTES.

Tom Delehanty has been signed by Columbus to play second base and Grant will be moved to short field. Delehanty was released by Wheeling.

Marion has a new pitcher named Granninger, an amateur, who has pitched twenty-four games this season, winning all of them.

W. Kelsey Schoepf, the Cincinnati street car magnate, has offered to buy the Cincinnati team, but it is not thought that John T. Brush will be willing to sell. The Cincinnati fans would be delighted to see the team pass under the control of home capital.

Jack Powell, the big St. Louis pitcher, has been fined $50 for chasing Louie Heilbroner off the lot and threatening him with calamity if he caught him. Powell has had a dose of the sulks lately and was fined another $50 for failure to show up on the day he was scheduled to pitch.

"Kid" Luther, the amateur who made such a good showing in the box for Grand Rapids a few weeks ago, has developed a yellow streak, and will probably be released. Luther did not report for duty at a recent game and Wilmot is now looking for another twirler to take his place.

Fort Wayne opens a series of three games at home with Grand Rapids, commencing Friday, and then Dayton comes for a series. Columbus follows with three games, and then the locals try conclusions with Matthews, after which Wheeling comes. Fort Wayne closes the season at Columbus September 20, 21 and 22.

Manager Catterson, of the Matthews team, says he is losing money right along, but doesn't care, because he is getting lots of advertising and having a good time. His team puts up at the best hotels, rides to and from the grounds in carriages, and dress like prosperous commercial travelers. When off duty they make a business of hooning Matthews.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Wheat was quiet today. September opened 1/2c to 3/4c lower at 70 3/8c to 70 1/2c in sympatay with corn and because the Liverpool advance was disappointing when compared to the bulge here yesterday. After touching 70 3/8c September declined to 70 1/4c, but immediately rallied to 70 3/8@70 3/4c. Local receipts were 543 cars, 161 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported a total of 137 cars against 168 last week and 210 a year ago.

September later broke to 69 7/8c, but rallied to 70 3/4c on damage claims from the northwest. Lack of export support and the corn weakness caused further weakness, however, and the market declined to 70c and closed weak, 1/2@3/4c lower, at 70@70 1/4c.

Trade in corn also was quiet. The weather was reported favorable over most of the belt. September opened 1/2c to 1/4c down at 57 1/4c to 57 1/8c and eased to 57c. Receipts were 253 cars.

The close was weak, 1c down, at 56 3/4c.

Oats ruled 1/4c easier on liberal receipts and in sympathy with corn. September opened unchanged at 35c and sold off to 34 1/4c. Receipts were 172 cars.

Provisions were dull and easier because of lower prices in hogs. September pork opened 2 1/2c to 5c lower at $14.12 1/2@14.15; September lard and September ribs opened 5c depressed, the former at $8.70 and the latter at $7.87 1/2.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 6.—Prices of Americans at London were scanned with interest this morning owing to the prolonged holiday in that center and the developments on the strike situation since business was suspended there. Trading was fairly active but quite irregular, although the variations either way did not exceed fractions.

The more prominent railways were higher on continental buying, while the United States Steel issues were 1/4@1/2 lower respectively for the common and preferred. The local market opened with quotations slightly mixed, but showing improvements in the railroad stocks, which were weakest yesterday, especially St. Paul, which figured for a rise of a point. Atchison, Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western gained 1/2 in the first few minutes. There was less doing in the Steel stocks and they moved independently of each other. The common sold up 1/4 to 40 1/4 on the purchase of 6,000 shares, while the preferred reacted 1/8. Some of the less active stocks made good gains, the rise reaching 1 to 1 1/4 in Cotton Oil, Consolidated Gas and Chicago Great Western. The market generally halted pending a definite tendency to the United States Steel stocks, and the preferred stock was supported and about cancelled its early loss. The common weakened and touched 39 3/4. Its dip soon affected the preferred and it went back to the lowest—89 1/4. Other stocks then began to sag. Sugar losing 1 3/4. Tennessee Coal 1 1/2 and St. Paul a point.

Some of the leading railroads reacted to a parity or a shade below yesterday's close. Towards 11 o'clock a large demand developed for St. Paul, Atchison, Reading, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific and they rallied 1 to 1 1/2 above last night. Sugar reacted 1 1/2, but Missouri Pacific lost as much. Large amounts of the United States Steel stocks were taken on a rising scale, the common getting up 3@3 1/2 above last night and the preferred reaching a parity.

The rise in prices halted for a time shortly after the first hour on realizing, but speculation became intensely dull and as there was no material setback to the United States Steel issues the bull traders became more confident. Sugar, which had previously sold a point below last night, rallied to 2 1/2 above, and Pennsylvania rose 1 1/2. United States Steel common was dealt in only moderately, but improved to 40 3/4. The preferred sold at 89 3/4.

The more favorable crop news started a covering movement in the grain-carrying roads and as offerings were scant prices rose rapidly.

Atchison and St. Paul led the movement and rose 2 3/4 and 2 3/4 respectively. Improvements of a point were pretty general elsewhere and Sugar exceptionally gained 3. But little change occurred in the United States Steels stocks. They fluctuated only 1/4 or so and did not rise above the forenoon highest.

Sugar, St. Paul, Atchison and Union Pacific ra noff 1@1 1/4 before 2 o'clock and the list eased sympathetically. General Electric broke 4 1/2.

There was another upturn in prices in the final hour, but the improvements did not carry the market to the top prices outside of United States Steel, which brought 40.

A subsequent bear drive against St. Paul, Sugar, Atchison, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific forced them from 1 to 2 3/4 below the best and brought a weakness on all other points. United States Steel common fell to 40, but the preferred was better sustained and held at 89 3/8. St. Lawrence and Adirondack rose 3 1/2 per cent. on the declaration of the first semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. The market closed weak.

Bonds were quiet and irregular.

DOUBT

LACK OF KNOWLEDGE.

Women who are yet to experience the trial of motherhood should post themselves and reason with modern intelligence. Theories based upon the conditions that surrounded your grandmothers or of the lower animal kingdom, should not be advanced—is pure ignorance. Fashion and civilization has changed your mode of living, dress and thought. The modern mother need not suffer, yet she surely will if nature is left alone to mould the fetus and give successful issue of the living child. Mother's Friend is a softening and relaxing liniment, for external use shortly after a woman finds herself pregnant, or as soon as fullness and discomfort with morning sickness is evident. It relieves the excruciating pain occasioned by the strain on the tendions of the abdominal muscles. A bottle costs $1.00, and is sold by all druggists.

AN OLD RAILROADER DEAD

GEORGE E. CAINE STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.

TO BE BURIED AT LAS VEGAS

W. R. BELL'S REMAINS WILL NOT BE BROUGHT HERE.

Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, having headquarters in Cleveland, believe there is little probability of railway employes becoming involved in the steel strike. Both organizations mentioned have provisions in their constitutions that prevent sympathetic strikes and neither organization is affiliated with any other organization in such a way as to make it possible for either to become involved in the strikes of other organizations in which railroad men are not directly implicated.

LABOR SCARCE EVERYWHERE.

The scarcity of labor which has greatly delayed several enterprises in this section of the country is not confined to this state. It is even more marked in some other states, particularly in the west, where the Southern Pacific last Saturday placed an order with the Kansas State Employment Bureau for 2,000 men to work at laying tracks, repairing roadbeds and building extensions in California. The Chicago and Western Indiana, during the next few months, will also want several thousand men in the elevation of the tracks between Twenty-second and Fifty-second streets in Chicago.

G. E. CAINE DEAD.

George E. Caine, a gentleman well known in Wabash railway circles, died at his home in St. Louis Sunday afternoon from apoplexy, after an illness of two days. He was stricken with the disease while attending to some business last Friday. Mr. Caine was born at Newburg, O., in 1839, and as soon as he reached manhood began his career in railroading, taking a minor position and working his way up. He was connected with the Wabash railroad in various capacities for thirty-two years, his last connection with the company being that of general roadmaster. In his early connection with the Wabash company he lived at Peru, Ind., and on being promoted to his last position he removed to Decatur, Ill. Mr. Caine was a Mason, being a member of the Peru lodge, having maintained a membership there ever since he went to St. Louis, twelve years ago, when he became superintendnt of construction of the Merchants' bridge. This position he held four years and then engaged in railway building. He was one of the founders of the Roadmasters' association.

NO CHANGE IN STRIKE.

The situation at the Indiana Road Machine works, where the machinists have been on a strike for the past two weeks, has not changed materially since the first day of the strike. Each side to the controversy seems to be firm and present appearances do not indicate a speedy settlement of the affair. The difficulty is not a matter of wages, The Sentinel is informed, but grew out of a disagreement regarding the number of apprentices employed at the works. The strike is conducted upon very orderly and quiet lines and good feeling between employer and employe seems to prevail.

SHOP INSPECTOR HERE.

H. A. Richards, of Muncie, Ind., deputy shop inspector for the Second district of Indiana, arrived in the city last night and this morning started upon a tour of the industrial establishments of the city. He is a man of pleasant address and seems to know how to perform his duties without giving offense to the proprietors of the factories.

BURIED AT LAS VEGAS.

Unable to locate the relatives of William Bell, whose death was mentioned by The Sentinel yesterday, the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has desided to not have the remains brought here for interment. Secretary Bert Sunderland this morning telegraphed the Brotherhood men at Las Vegas, N. M., to give the body respectful burial at that place. The brother of the deceased was residing in Portland, Ore., when last heard from, but Mr. Sunderland has been unable to reach him by a telegram. Mr. Bell held a life policy in the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, payable to his brother.

TRAVELED LIKE KINGS.

The Pennsylvania delegates to the Epworth League convention at San Francisco, who passed through this city last night, traveled in trains equal to the Pennsylvania limited, than which there is no better in service. There were three trains, each consisting of five Pullman sleepers, an observation car and a baggage car, and they carried 265 passengers.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED.

W. T. Warcup is suffering from a dislocated shoulder, the result of an accident at the Pittsburg freight house last night. He is employed as a caller at that establishment, and in passing from one car to another the iron bridge slipped and let him down to the ground unexpectedly. He will be off duty a week or two.

HARRIS SUCCEEDS ROCKWELL.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 6.—It was announced here today that J. M. Harris, now district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines at Columbus, has been appointed assistant general passenger agent at Cincinnati, to succeed George E. Rockwell, who has resigned, to take effect September 1.
